FOUR TIMES FASTER THAN SOUND

X-15 Flies Record 2,650 M.P.H.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—An X-15 rocket plane flown by Maj. Robert White streaked to a record of 2,650 miles an hour today in a giant step in man's attempt to fly to the edge of space.

White, already holder of unofficial world speed and altitude marks in the experimental craft, flew four times faster than sound only briefly in the test of a 640,000-horsepower rocket engine. The record reading today was a quick estimate and subject to later change.

The initial National Aeronautics and Space Administration flight of the super-engine was the start of a step-by-step program to fly the X-15 to 100 miles above the earth at speeds of 4,000 m.p.h.

Today's successful flight came after two false starts during the past three weeks. Twice the pencil-shaped rocket plane was lifted to drop position, but each time the flight was canceled shortly before the drop when problems developed in its tricky fueling system.

White held the 57,000-pound thrust rocket at half throttle for two minutes before shutting it down and he had the craft's speed brakes open part of the time. But the brute force of the rocket still pushed him almost 400 m.p.h. faster than his old mark in an X-15 with a smaller power plant.

Early Voting Heavy In Terra Linda

Terra Lindans swarmed to the polls today to vote on whether their community should be annexed to San Rafael, even as directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District laid the groundwork for possible challenge of the election outcome.

By noon, more than 25 per cent of the 1,955 eligible voters had cast ballots in the simple "yes" or "no" choice on annexation. The big rush to the nine polling places is expected this evening, when Terra Linda husbands—most of whom are commuters—return from work.

Polls will remain open until 7 p.m. City Clerk W. L. Morgan said he expects to have the results by 9 p.m.

SPOT CHECK

A spot check of some of the polling places at noon showed 66 of about 200 registered had voted at 217 Orange Blossom Lane, 50 of 188 had cast ballots at 696 Las Colindas Road, 62 of 188 had balloted at 840 Penny Royal Lane, and 86 of 219 had voted at 901 Las Ovejas Avenue.

The groundwork for possible challenge was continued in letters to Mayor John F. McInnis and City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw from Dr. Michael J. Franzblau, chairman (and only elected member) of the Terra Linda Community Services District board.

WOULD VOID VOTE

Mayor McInnis advised the city council last night that he and Bagshaw had received the letters by registered mail. He noted that they set forth five major points where Franzblau believes the city erred in preparing for the election.

"He hopes to declare the election invalid," said McInnis, "presumably unless the results are of a sort that he favors."

McInnis asked if his fellow councilmen cared to hear the letter read in full. None did.

"In the case," said the mayor.

City Clerk W. L. Morgan expects to have the preliminary vote count completed by 9 p.m. Persons wishing to learn the fate of the issue may telephone the I-J, GL 4-3020, between 9 and 11 p.m. to learn the results.

Tamapais Union High School District trustees last night hired the first Negro teacher in the history of the district.

He is Henry A. Marshall, 27, star athlete and graduate of San Francisco State College. He will teach physical education and driver training at Tamapais High School, beginning in September. It is his first teaching assignment.

Marshall was graduated from San Francisco State College in 1960 after having his college education interrupted from 1953 through 1957 when he served in the Air Force as an aviation mechanic.

While at college, Marshall worked as counsellor with San

City Planner Resigns Job In San Rafael

San Rafael lost its city planner last night.

Donald Newmark, who has been city planner since July 1, submitted a letter of resignation, advising the city council that he has "received an attractive tentative offer of employment with another agency."

The resignation is effective March 31.

The council authorized City Manager Dan E. Andersen to begin recruiting for another city planner.

Newmark became San Rafael's city planner after working for two years for the Urban Renewal Agency in San Francisco. Before he took the job, the planner position was vacant for three months after the resignation of Mitchell Baird, who held the job for 15 months, then quit to return to the same San Francisco consulting engineer firm for which he had previously worked.

U.S. Congo Task Force Canceled

More U.N. Troops Assigned

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—Reinforcement for the United Nations garrison began arriving in Leopoldville today after Sudanese United Nations soldiers in a humiliating defeat were forced out of the vital port of Matadi by the Congolese army.

Arrival of the troops coincided with Sudan's announcement that it is withdrawing its 400 men from the U.N. force in the Congo. Sudanese President Ibrahim Abboud accused the U.N. command of carelessly deploying the Sudanese contingent at Matadi and failing to provide proper reinforcements for the outnumbered garrison.

The United Nations is trying to negotiate its way back into the port city down the Congo River, and the reinforcements bolstered its negotiating position.

Emergency arrangements were made to airlift 600 soldiers from Tunisia to the Congo tomorrow. A U.N. spokesman said the vanguard of 3,000 soldiers India is sending probably will arrive within a week.

The United Nations called up its reinforcements after a week-end of bitter street fighting between U.N. and Congolese soldiers in Matadi ended with the surrender of the 135-man Sudanese garrison.

A U.N. spokesman reiterated the U.N. intention to put its soldiers back into Matadi.

The United Nations has about 16,000 soldiers in the Congo.

Ghana Chief Tells U.N. Congo Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana called today for creation of a "primarily" African United Nations command in the Congo and the withdrawal of all foreign diplomatic units from the country to insure its elimination from the cold war.

Nkrumah, in an address to the opening meeting of the 15th General Assembly's resumed session, proposed this program for the Congo:

1. Immediate establishment of a "new and strengthened" U.N. command in Leopoldville.

2. The command "should be primarily African and should take over complete responsibility for law and order and for reasserting the territorial integrity" of the Congo.

3. All airfields and seaports should be brought under U.N. control to stop the flow of arms and equipment from outside.

4. "All foreign diplomatic missions should be recalled from the Congo for the time being."

U.N. Asserts Navy Aid Isn't Needed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States called off the sending of a naval task force to the Congo area today after being informed that the United Nations did not need the force.

The Navy announced that the four ships which had been heading toward the Congo since Monday were turned around this morning because "their presence is not required by the U.N. in Congo waters."

Four ships—including a destroyer and two landing

FRIEND SAYS LIZ SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

LONDON (AP)—Seven doctors held an urgent conference today at the bedside of Elizabeth Taylor, a friend said later "there's still hope."

The doctors made no statement on emerging from the room where the 29-year-old film star is fighting for her life against double pneumonia.

"While her condition is still very critical, there's no reason at the moment for any fresh despondency," said the friend, Suzanne Cardozo.

"The doctors believe she's maintaining at least a little of the improvement she showed this morning."

Queen Elizabeth's physician, Lord Evans, attended the doctors' conference. He arrived at Miss Taylor's hospital, the London Clinic, shortly before the star's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Taylor.

ship transports with 500 Marines aboard — were ordered Sunday night to change course as they were headed for a goodwill visit to Cape Town. They were instructed instead to head for the Gulf of Guinea, off the Congo. One other destroyer proceeded on toward Capetown.

This morning, the Navy said the four ships had been "ordered to reverse course and continue the goodwill visit to South African ports."

Asked whether the ships would go into Capetown, as originally scheduled, the Navy said that the next port of call has not been decided.

The ships were still several hundred miles from Congo waters when given the turn around order.

Although about 500 Marines were aboard two landing ship transports, the State Department and Navy had insisted all along that there was no intention of putting any combat personnel ashore to intervene in the U.N.-Congolese dispute.

The primary reason given for Sunday's order was to make the ships available in event the U.N. commander in the Congo wanted to bring out his troops or send more in.

Development Program On Recreation Voted

The San Rafael City Council last night adopted resolutions setting in motion a state-city recreation plan development which is to be expanded into a city master plan.

The council (1) hired William Spangle Jr. of Menlo Park as planning consultant on the project, (2) authorized a contract with the California Planning Department of an urban planning grant of $16,000 to finance it, and (3) provided that the agreement may be amended to convert the project from a master recreation plan to a complete city master plan.

The basic recreation program on which the project will be based is that developed last year by Kenneth R. Anderson, planning consultant, for the city's parks and recreation commission.

Anderson last September recommended the master plan, which would include waterfront development, citywide parks and permanent open spaces, city beautification, neighborhood and community recreation areas. The waterfront development phase of the program had been suggested earlier by Harold Wise, who three years ago prepared a general plan for the city.

One bit of waterfront development, by private interests, was proposed to the city council last night.

Richardson Bay Dredging Passed

Mill Valley representatives staged such a powerful blitz before the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday that they pushed across the Richardson Bay dredging project despite unusual aspects.

By the deal as finally approved by 3-1 vote (which would have been 3-2 had Southern Marin Supervisor J. Walter Blair been present to back a dissent he'd written) there will be a sort of "token" version of the Saucelito Channel supposed to be dredged by the county before Mill Valley can get a

This small channel, termed by an opponent "substandard," will be done by a combination of private enterprise—George Leo Zaro—and $25,000 capital made available by Mill Valley.

Richardson Bay is within Blair's district. Though ill at home, Blair sent in a letter of opposition. Also opposing was Supervisor George Ludy of West Marin.

But one important hurdle had been cleared by a letter obtained by Mill Valley City Man-

KUCHEL'S NOT IN RUNNING FOR GOVERNOR

SACRAMENTO (AP)—You can write off one possible Republican candidate for governor next year: Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel.

Kuchel told a news conference today:

He said he had no opinion on whether former Vice President Richard M. Nixon would run for the job.

He said the Republicans can recapture political control of California in 1962 with a vigorous campaign and able candidates.

Corte Madera Council Turns Down Zoning For Cooperative Market

The Corte Madera Town Council last night unanimously refused to allow Consumers Cooperative of Berkeley to construct a supermarket at the Corte Madera Wye.

The property, bounded by Tamapais Drive, Old County Road, Meadowsweet Drive and the Billings-Hutchison office building is zoned professional. The town's master plan would have to be changed for the area to be rezoned to commercial.

A standing-room-only crowd jammed the council chamber for the public hearing on the rezoning request. After listening to suggestions from the audience both for and against the construction—but mostly for—the council said "no."

George Little, president of the Berkeley Cooperative committee, told the council that 90 per cent of cooperative members in Marin County live outside the limits of Corte Madera.

"It will mean more business for the town and its businessmen," Little said.

The cooperative had earlier been refused permission to build the market on the Corte Madera Shopping Center property, Little said.

Many Corte Madera residents, and some from Terra Linda, San Rafael, Mill Valley, Tiburon and Sausalito, told the council that a supermarket such as the Consumers Cooperative is needed in Corte Madera. Some said they drive to Berkeley to take advantage of the co-op store there and would like to have one in Marin County.

Council members held it was not a question of having a store in Corte Madera, but of whether a change is greatly needed in the only section of the city zoned for exclusive professional use.

William R. Talley, Corte Madera attorney, was the chief opponent of the rezoning. He said the town had to protect the professional offices from the heavy traffic and unsightly conditions which the supermarket would bring to the area.

When a representative of Consumers Cooperative asked Talley whom he represented, he replied: "I'm representing the Corte Madera Merchants Assn. and William R. Talley, unincorporated."

Residents of 777 Meadowsweet Drive, an apartment building to the rear of the proposed market site, complained that the market would be unsightly. They also said the traffic problem would be too great.

Explaining the reasons for their disapproval, council members said:

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst: "There is enough commercial property in Corte Madera on which to build a supermarket. The present zoning therefore does not need change."

Vice Mayor Albert Kogler: "The town master plan should not be changed. The supermarket would cause too great a traffic problem from cars leaving and entering the market."

Councilman Roger F. Morse: "To change the zoning to commercial would allow a long list

Job Discrimination In U.S. Contracts Ripped By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy—in his first action in the civil rights field—has moved to end job discrimination by the government and companies having federal contracts.

His executive order may be the first of a number of steps in this field.

Kennedy told a news conference last week the administration was making a study "of where the federal government might justifiably place its power and influence to expand civil rights."

SCHOOLS FUNDS

One step under consideration, he said, was an order to withhold federal funds from that discriminate against pupils on the grounds of race, religion or national origin.

The order last night—effective in 30 days—consolidated two existing government committees into a single President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity headed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Kennedy's order provides stiff penalties for violations, including possible cancellation of government contracts. It also calls for an exhaustive survey of government hiring and firing practices.

STRONGEST ISSUED

Administration officials say the order is the strongest issued by any president in the field of job discrimination. They say it both provides new sanctions against discrimination and makes it possible to use old powers more effectively.

Reaction came promptly from Capitol Hill.

"This development is excellent as far as it goes," said Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.). "But it fails to provide for legislation which is the only real way to give a committee like this the money and the backing it needs to do the job."

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the order was a step by Kennedy toward fulfilling his campaign pledge to use the powers of the presidency to implement civil rights.

"This explains, in part, why no reference was made to civil rights in the 16 priority matters drawn up for congressional action," Mansfield said.

The president, in his statement, said he has "dedicated my administration to the cause of equal opportunity in employment by the government or its contractors."

The new committee replaces two which existed in the Eisenhower administration—one on government contracts headed by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and one on government employment policy.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg will serve as vice chairman of the committee.

Other members include the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, the secretary of commerce, the attorney general, secretary of defense, the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, the administrator of general services, the chairman of the Civil Service Commission and the administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Soviets Propose Ban On Cold War Issues

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union has proposed to keep explosive cold war issues out of the U.N. General Assembly session opening today. But first talks between U.S. and Soviet representatives were inconclusive.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson conferred for more than an hour last night with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

WONT PRESS

There has been talk of shelving such cold war items as Tibet, Hungary and U-2 reconnaissance flights. The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia announced that the Russians will not press their demand for a discussion of the U-2 flights at the session.

But sources close to U.S. delegates said no agreement was reached between Stevenson and Gromyko.

Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah was to set the stage this afternoon for an explosive new debate on the Congo with a speech to the assembly supporting his plan for an all-African U.N. command in the chaotic African territory.

Nkrumah was the only speaker listed for the opening session of the resumed 15th General Assembly, certain to be dominated by the Congo crisis.

SNUBS LUNCHEON

The Soviets sounded a new jarring note on the eve of the session when A. Gromyko snubbed a luncheon Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld gave yesterday for Nkrumah.

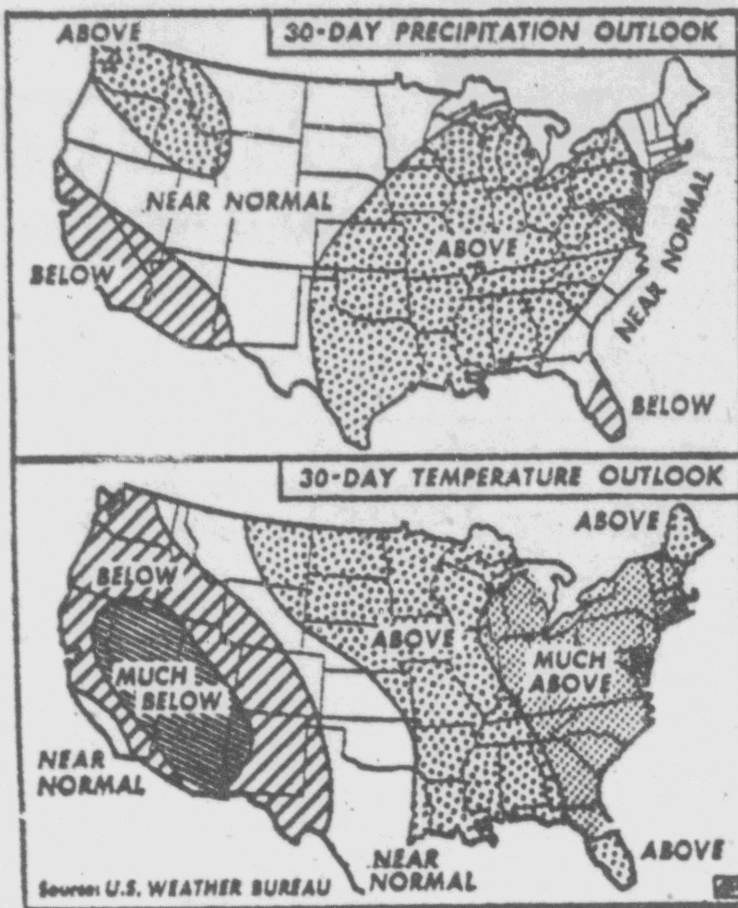

Gromyko's boycott was seen as blunt notice the Soviets will oppose any Congo peace plan in which the secretary-general has a hand. The Soviet foreign minister is expected to continue to press the Kremlin's demands for an end of the U.N. Congo operation and Hammarskjöld's resignation.

Gromyko called on Nkrumah at his hotel suite, apparently to make clear his boycott of the luncheon was not directed at the Ghana president.

Nkrumah's Congo proposal, as outlined in a recent cable to Hammarskjöld, differs sharply from Soviet demands.

It contains these main points:

1. A new all-African U.N. command should be set up in the Congo to take over full responsibility for law and order.
2. All Congolese armed units should return to their barracks and surrender their weapons to the new U.N. command. The disarming should be voluntary, but the U.N. troops would use force if necessary.
3. All non-African personnel serving in the Congolese armies must be expelled at once.
4. Once the military situation is brought under control,

2 Men Confess French Auto Heir Abduction

ANNECY, France (AP) —Police said today that a former paratrooper and an accomplice with a police record have confessed to the kidnapping last year of 4-year-old auto heir Eric Peugeot.

After questioning the pair for 48 hours, police said they admitted participating in the kidnapping last April 12 which netted 50 million francs—$100,000—ransom. The blond youngster of auto magnate Roland Peugeot was returned unharmed.

The two men who were reported to have confessed were identified as Roland Rolland, also known as Raymond Rolland and Pierre Larcher.

They were picked up two days ago with another man and three women, including a Danish beauty queen and a Eurasian strip tease artist. All had been on a ski vacation at Megeve.

The Eurasian was identified only as Mitsouko.

Police said the Danish beauty, Lise Bodin, Mitsouko and the third man picked up would be taken to Paris with Rolland and Larcher for further questioning. The third woman—who was not identified—was not mentioned by police.

Rolland was identified as a 24-year-old ex-paratrooper who has been spending large sums of money although he has no visible means of support.

Peace Corps, Draft Status Explained

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft-age young men who have military deferments won't lose them by serving in the Peace Corps.

This is the opinion of Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, head of selective service.

Peace Corps director R. Sargent Shriver told a news conference yesterday it was Hershey's judgment that one who served in the corps for two years would be eligible for further deferment from military service.

Shriver said no exemptions from military service for peace corpsmen had been proposed and none had been requested.

Of course, Shriver said, a young man couldn't return to the United States from Peace Corps service, become a beachcomber and expect to get deferment. And, he added, those who were deferred always would be subject to general mobilization, if it came.

Most college students and young men in certain special vocations get deferments from the draft.

Lt. Col. William B. Pierce of 33 Prince Royal Passage, Corte Madera, has retired from the Army after 20 years active duty.

His last duty assignment was as ROTC affairs officer of the G-3 (training) section, headquarters, 15th Army Corps, Presidio of San Francisco.

Pierce entered the Army in 1941. After completing Officer Candidate School in 1942 he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the infantry. During World War II he served in the Rhineland and when the fighting was over with occupation forces until 1948, when he returned to the United States. He has been awarded the Commendation Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster, Silver Star and Bronze Star medals. Pierce plan to enter the real estate business in California.

Nikita Ready To Receive U.S. Message

MOSCOW (AP) —Premier Nikita Khrushchev today invited U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to meet him in Siberia tomorrow to deliver a personal message from President John F. Kennedy.

Embassy sources said Thompson will fly to Siberia, but declined to disclose his exact destination.

It is assumed he will meet the Soviet premier in Novosibirsk for exploratory talks on improving Soviet-American relations. This is where Khrushchev has been busy with an agricultural meeting. It is the same town that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon toured two years ago.

FIRST SUCH TRIP

This is the first time an American ambassador has made such a trip to see any Soviet leader. It is also the first time that any foreign envoy has met Khrushchev outside of Moscow except when they have visited him at one of his holidays homes.

The fact that Khrushchev has invited Thompson to see him in the midst of a busy tour indicates the importance which he attaches to the Kennedy message.

The note expresses hope for better understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union, but details have not been disclosed.

ALREADY ON TOUR

Thompson flew back to Moscow late last month with the message after consultation in Washington with Kennedy and the State Department. But Khrushchev had already left on his agricultural tour.

Thompson asked Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko last Thursday for an appointment with Khrushchev, and told reporters it was urgent for him to see the Soviet premier.

He pointed out then that it was already so many days since his last talk with the president.

AF Accused Of 'Waste' Flight Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) accused the Air Force today of "wasting" 183 million dollars a year to give flight pay to doctors, lawyers, chaplains and other non-flying specialists.

Symington, Air Force secretary in the Truman administration, said the Air Force grants proficiency flight pay to 27,000 officers who are not needed as pilots.

"Many officers receiving flying pay have not actually flown planes themselves for years," Symington said in a speech prepared for delivery on the senate floor.

"In such cases, subordinates do the flying while the officer in question works or rests in the back of the plane."

"Actually, Symington said, only 71 million dollars of the 183 million proficiency program goes for "unnecessary" flight pay itself. The remainder, he said, is needed to maintain and operate the planes.

The senator said a study by the general accounting office showed that 40 per cent of the total hours flown for proficiency pay were logged in World War II vintage, C-47 cargo aircraft.

Vagrancy Law Hit

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee has approved a bill to scratch the vagrancy law from the books as too broad and open to abuse by police officers.

Instead of the present statute, which permits arrest of persons walking about late at night or of those without visible means of financial support, the new measure spells out specific offenses.

These include prostitution, soliciting persons for lewd acts, drunkenness, or loitering on private property. The bill is by Assemblyman John A. O'Connell (D-San Francisco).

Storms Move North

The bad weather that boiled up a string of tornadoes, windstorms, rain, hail, sleet and heavy snow over a wide corridor of the country's midsection during the weekend moved into the Northeast today.

The culprit for the wide variety of ill weather, the Weather Bureau said, was a low-pressure area that originated in the Southwest and moved in a northeasterly direction through the country.

At least three persons died in a rash of twisters yesterday. Tornadoes and powerful winds damaged scores of buildings and downed utility lines over wide sections of the Midwest before dissipating over the Appalachians.

State Schools Chief Won't Quit In Textbook Probe

SACRAMENTO (AP)—An Assembly committee last night heard how millions of new school textbooks have been burned or "pulped" for years and the chairman demanded if Supt. of Public Instruction Roy E. Simpson plans to resign.

"No, Sir," said Simpson, who has held the non-partisan elective post for 16 years.

The special ways and means subcommittee questioned Simpson for an hour after voting to strike out a 1929 law which permits eastern publishers a 5 per cent markup for "transportation and marketing" on books sold to California high school districts.

Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton) said the overcharges have amounted to as much as 11 million dollars over the years.

Simpson said his "attention was not really focused" on the textbook problem.

Assemblyman Bruce Sumner (R-Newport Beach) called Simpson's testimony "incredible."

"You are a constitutional officer elected by the people, yet you seem to feel you have no responsibility for direction," Simpson said he had been busy helping draft the master plan for higher education and perhaps because of that "was not kept informed" on other things going on in his department.

He accepted full responsibility for the recent burning of 185,000 unused but obsolete textbooks, although he said the final decision on burning was made by the man in charge of the warehouse.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post said records show the State Printing Plan has consistently printed more textbooks than the Education Department ordered. The overruns average 7 per cent, he said, and on some books ran much higher.

"I don't see how the Department of Education could have ignored the overruns," said Post. "It just seemed to take the State Printing Plant for granted."

Assemblyman Frank Lanterman (R-La Canada) called the printing plant a "sacred cow."

Chairman Jesse M. Unruh asked Simpson if he had ever done anything about the overruns by the printer.

"The report comes in, and those books are surplus," said Simpson.

"Have you ever written them and queried why the overruns?" asked Unruh.

"My attention was really not focused upon this. That's part of the trouble," answered Simpson.

He said the textbooks are supervised by his aide, Ivan R. Waterman.

"Have you asked for his resignation?" demanded Unruh.

"I have not," said Simpson.

"He is civil service. I don't know whether this is the basis for charges."

"Have you any plans to resign yourself," asked Unruh.

"No, sir."

Post testified that 832,755 new books have been destroyed in the past seven years, and another 970,000 become "surplus" next year.

Simpson agreed to the figures, but said he couldn't distribute, sell or give away the surpluses because of restrictions in contracts with publishers and in state law.

"Have you ever brought this as a serious problem before the legislature?" asked Assemblyman Pauline Davis (D-Portola).

"I have no answer to that," said Simpson.

The bill outlawing the 5 per cent freight markup on high school texts now goes to the Assembly for expected passage.

State Hiring Fired Chief Of Hospital

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Dr. G. Lee Sandritter, fired by state of Washington, has been hired by the state of California to run its problem institution — Atascadero State Hospital.

Dr. Daniel Blain, California's director of mental hygiene, said the 53-year-old doctor — his choice after a five-month nationwide search — "is the best man available for the job."

Atascadero, on the south central coast, is where Californians send criminally insane. It has been the scene of mass escapes and other disciplinary problems.

Blain said Sandritter resigned his job as superintendent of Eastern State Hospital at Medical Lake, Wash., effective April 1.

Word from Washington, however, said Gov. Albert D. Ros-

Rossellini said an investigation indicated immoral relations went on between some patients, and between some patients and employees. Sandritter denied it.

Books Option For Schools Is Suggested

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A proposal to allow local school districts to choose elementary school textbooks from a state-approved list got its first airing before the legislature yesterday.

The bill by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton (D-Merced) was heard by the Assembly Education Committee which decided to hold another hearing on it tomorrow.

Winton's proposal would require the state board of education to submit a list of books for each subject to local districts which then could select any number of the books for use in classrooms.

Such a plan was recommended by the Citizens Advisory Commission on Public Education in its final report last fall after a three-year study.

Slaying Trial Starts For Former Barber

The murder trial of Elwood Williams, 29, San Rafael barber accused of shooting his estranged wife to death last November, began today in Woodland, Yolo County.

Williams is charged with killing Holly Germaine Williams, 27, in the presence of her sister, Mrs. Jonellen Goddard, when Mrs. Williams refused to agree to a reconciliation. Also present at the shooting, after which Williams attempted to take his own life, were Mrs. Goddard's child and three neighbor children.

Defending Williams is Yolo County Public Defender Lewis Shearer. He has entered a plea of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Dist. Atty. Anthony B. Avilla, who will prosecute the case with his chief criminal deputy, Thomas Purtell, said selection of a jury would probably take all day today. Hearing the case will be superior court Judge Charles C. McDonald.

Williams, who lived at 46 Martens Boulevard in San Rafael, was employed as a barber at Lloyd's Barber Shop, 819 Fourth Street, San Rafael. The couple had a 4-year-old son, now living with his grandmother in Oregon.

Contract Awarded

The State Department of Public Works yesterday awarded a contract for the addition of a $178,959 boiler plant addition at San Quentin Prison. The contract was awarded to Cortelyou and Cole, Inc. and Walter S. Leland Co., of Emeryville.

TV Antenna Fund Studied In Marin City

Marin County Housing Authority commissioners yesterday decided to explore the possibilities of using authority funds to install a television master antenna for residents of Marin City.

Proposals for installation by private business people have been turned down since the monthly charge of approximately $4.75 per resident was excessive.

Executive director Bert Klahn reported that 97 buildings have been burned to date in site improvement at Marin City and there are 42 to be removed. Of these, he said, 28 can be burned but 14 must be removed by demolition since they are too close to trees and power lines to burn.

Klahn said there are now 609 families living in Marin City, a decrease of five families from last month.

The redevelopment agency, which met following the housing authority, set a public hearing for March 24 at 1:30 p.m. in the community lounge on the land disposition contract with developer James H. Scheuer. Copies of the proposed contract, Klahn said, will be available at the redevelopment agency for two weeks prior to the hearing.

The agency agreed to send letters to Marin City residents inviting certified material which would establish their current incomes. This move was made in answer to a request from the Marin City Tenants Council for a survey of current incomes to determine whether Marin City residents can afford to pay the $115 and $125 rents of the proposed co-operative apartments.

Nuclear Sub Nears Base In Scotland

LONDON (UPI)—The nuclear submarine Patrick Henry, armed with Polaris missiles, will arrive tomorrow off Holy Loch, Scotland, her United Kingdom base. The sub's arrival could touch off a further wave of disarmament demonstrations.

The Navy said the submarine, which has just completed a 60-day undersea cruise carrying 16 nuclear-tipped Polaris missiles, will stay at Holy Loch for about a month before sailing for another cruise, lasting perhaps 50 days.

Nuclear disarmament groups in Britain have protested the basing of an American submarine at Holy Loch and the arrival of the submarine tender Proteus Friday set off a pacifist demonstration there.

Unitarian Youth Plan Work To Raise Funds

A work day to raise funds for helping integration in the South will be held Saturday by the Liberal Religious Youth of the Unitarian Church of Marin.

The church youths will do any job around the home in return for a contribution to their fund. All money will be sent to the Unitarian Church in New Orleans, which has asked for money to help persons displaced by integration.

'Urgent' Bill On Education Given Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy today sent Congress "urgent" legislation to aid higher education in America by providing 212,500 college scholarships for able youths and extending federal loans for dormitory and classroom construction.

He told house and senate leaders that passage of the five-year, three-billion-dollar program is "vital" to prepare for the vast increase in college enrollments expected during the coming decade.

The two bills sent to Congress round out legislation to implement Kennedy's 5.6-billion-dollar aid to education program. He already had sent Congress legislation to provide federal grants to states for public school construction or teachers' salaries, as each state deems best.

One of today's bills would provide for an immediate increase of $109 million dollars and an additional 250 million in each of the next five years in authorization for college housing loans. It would also authorize an additional 25 million in each of the next five years for loans to help build college dining halls, student centers and similar facilities.

The second bill would provide in the next five years for a total of 212,500 four-year undergraduate scholarships "for able high school graduates who need assistance to continue their education through college." The five-year total for this would aggregate $577 million dollars.

This bill also would authorize long-term, low-interest loans totaling 1.5 billion dollars over five years to help provide college classrooms, libraries and other academic facilities.

Plan For Recreation Given To Belvedere

The Belvedere City Council last night heard a proposal by the recreation commission to fill Richardson Bay alongside San Rafael Avenue to provide a Vista Point and play area.

The commission estimated cost of $20,000 to fill the five to six acres proposed. The council tabled any discussion until the next meeting, as Mayor Robert P. Watkins was absent because of illness.

The council, with Vice Mayor Ida E. Scott presiding, went over the six-point commission recommendation list, which included cleaning up the city-owned property on Beach Road, placing grassy mounds on the cove road pumping station property and making an esplanade with benches along the Cove Road sea wall if the city secures the property in its condemnation suit.

The council was asked by Mrs. Robert Bastian to take a "fresh approach" in trying to solve the problem of keeping the Cove Road sea wall open without increasing taxes for its purchase. "We land owners are caught in a squeeze . . . and we are righteously indignant at the outcome of this proposal," Mrs. Bastian said sharply.

Mrs. Scott put off appointing a citizens committee to meet with the Belvedere Land Co. until Dr. Watkins recovers from his illness.

Belvedere voters will decide in a special election March 28 whether or not to continue the council's condemnation suit against the land company for the 477 feet of waterfront property.

The council also accepted the $448,630 federal grant for its sewer program; reviewed plans for the community hall remodeling and decided to continue to allow a five mile an hour leeway in arrests for speeding on San Rafael Avenue.

nue, a 25 mile an hour area. The council passed a resolution to vacate a portion of Belvedere Avenue and set the date of its next regular meeting, April 3, as a public hearing. City Engineer Albert H. Seimer was directed to study the feasibility and plan a turnaround at the end of Acacia Road on Belvedere island.

Mill Valley Board Plans Meeting On Personnel

The Mill Valley School District board last night discussed a bill before the state legislature for "county equalization" of school taxes, but took no action.

The board received a recommendation from Supt. G. Robert McConnell to re-employ 105 certificated persons during 1961-62 and agreed to hold a closed meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the district office for consideration of the recommendation.

Trustees authorized McConnell to advertise rental of a residence on school property at 627 Eastwood Way, Tamalpais Valley. The home was previously leased to Peter Gilliam, who has left California. A lease will be awarded to the highest bidder at a public hearing in April.

Next meeting of the board will be at 8 p.m. March 20 at the Tamalpais Valley School. The following meeting will be April 3 at Alto School.

Council To Hire Plumber's Helper

A San Rafael Planning Commission member who is a candidate for city council failed last night to persuade the council to hire a plumbing inspector at a salary well above the city building department pay scale.

Orlando Conti, who is a plumbing contractor himself, argued long and unsuccessfully in behalf of a man who was never named but who, Conti disclosed, is now in the county building inspection department. He said the man would accept the job at $581 per month.

Instead, the council unanimously approved the recommendation of Building Inspector Andrew Thomas that a second assistant inspector be hired at $520 a month. Thomas said he has at least two candidates who are journeymen plumbers. The inspector, however, would not be limited to plumbing inspection.

The council last night looked a gift horse in the mouth and decided it was no bargain.

At the Feb. 20 meeting, Paul A. Streett of 190 Oak Drive, San Rafael, applied to transfer 19 bus stop benches to Western Advertising System of Oakland. Streett disclosed he had an agreement to pay the city $1 per month for each bench that carries advertising. City Manager Dan E. Andersen said Western Advertising System proposed to pay 50 cents per bench per month — whether or not there is advertising on the benches.

"I'd like to upset the apple cart," said Mayor John F. McNnis last night. "I'd a whale of a lot rather just buy the benches and keep them as city property than have advertising on them."

Other councilmen agreed. City Manager Andersen was instructed to inquire about price.

Also at last night's San Rafael council meeting:

1. Russell Lauterwasser of Larkspur emerged as low bidder on demolition of the old caretaker's house in Gerstle Park, at $2,740. Only other bidder was Ghilotti Brothers at $4,995. The city engineer's estimate had been $3,000. The bids were referred to the park and recreation commission.

2. On recommendation of Norris Rawles, public works director, the council rejected all bids for a road roller and called for new bids limited to gear drive rollers. Rawles said the specification for gear drive had been left out of the earlier advertising.

3. Bids for resurfacing Cljos Street from Fourth to Third Street and replacing a sanitary sewer

Kennedy Firm On Parochial School Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy still is opposed to granting federal aid to parochial and private schools, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana said today.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, reported Kennedy's position to newsmen after the president's weekly meeting with Democratic congressional chiefs.

At a news conference last week Kennedy said federal aid to parochial and private schools would be clearly unconstitutional. He added that on the basis of a Supreme Court decision, the matter is not even open for debate.

Some members of the Roman Catholic Church hierarchy have taken sharp issue with the president. Calling for a new provision in the Kennedy school aid plan for a program of loans, they contend that such aid to private schools can be granted within the framework of the constitution.

Over the weekend, Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachu-

Corte Madera Votes For A Clean Sweep

Corte Madera Town Council last night decided to keep the streets of the town three times cleaner with the purchase of a street sweeper.

Bids on a used sweeper will be opened April 3.

Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow told the council that the 143 hours of sweeping the town streets in 1960 should be at least tripled to be equal to other Bay Area communities.

At present, Corte Madera is renting the Larkspur sweeper at $7.71 per hour. Brandow said that with the purchase of a used sweeper which could be used at the town's discretion instead of certain hours, the hourly cost would be $4.17.

Brandow stressed that the town should pay more man hours for the cleaning of streets.

"The town cannot afford to be this clean," Councilman Roger F. Morse said. But the vote to call for bids passed 4-1, Morse the lone dissenter.

The council unanimously voted in favor of the recommendation of the Park and Recreation Commission to install drainage pipes in the town park with money from other than special park funds.

It was also found the proposed baseball field in Town Park for the little league will not be completed this year because enough fill was not dumped on the site to meet the needs.

Fill is being purchased by the city—but not at a fast enough rate—at a price of 50 cents a cubic yard. The council expressed hopes of finishing the field and constructing bleachers next to the field next year. The council recommended the little league officials present their plans for the field early enough to allow councilmen to include it in the next budget.

Speaker Selected

County Planners Nip Proposal For Tavern

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday turned down a request for a use permit which would have transformed a furniture store into a bar in Tamalpais Valley.

C. Lewis Hayden, Mill Valley, had asked that he be permitted the bar in what now is Ramos Used Furniture Store, 267 Shoreline Highway.

The move was opposed at the planning meeting by five residents' letters against it and a petition from the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club containing 92 signatures. One letter writer was in favor.

The turndown came after residents and planning staff noted that the bar would be near residential uses such as an apartment and a laundromat and might cause parking and access problems off Shoreline.

Commissioners continued consideration of an adjustment for Fred Mantegani of Tiburon for construction of an office building on Tiburon Boulevard and for an adjustment for an addition to Tiburon Tommie's to March 20. The move came so that more commissioners could consider the parking problems of both areas.

Commissioners present yesterday afternoon were Dr. William Upton, chairman; Niels Schultz Jr., George Scott, and Felix M. Warburg, who disqualified himself from votes on both adjustment requests because he is architect for the Mantegani building.

In other business, commissioners:

1. Denied a request for rezoning of property at 11 South Knoll Road in the Alto area from two-family residential to multiple residential, because of inadequate streets in the area.

2. Continued to March 20 a request by G. C. Gochen of Mill Valley, for Marin Capital Co. for rezoning of 188 acres from suburban and limited agricultural to planned residential classification. The land is northwest of the Alto Junction. Plans include a nine-acre golf course and some 900 homes.

3. Continued to March 20 a request for architectural supervision by American Lutheran Church, for construction at 2626 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, west of Oak Manor Drive near Fairfax. Continued at the request of the church.

Sports Car Hits Fence

An Oakland girl became confused at the complex of highway divisions west of the San Rafael-Richmond bridge yesterday and drove her sports car into a fence, throwing herself and an off-duty Oakland policeman out of the car with injury to both.

Carmen Warren, 23, and her passenger, Ronald Beach, 28, were in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital. "Things had happened too fast" for Beach to give any account of the accident at 2:50 p.m. which took out 50 feet of chain link fence and five fence posts.

Apparently Miss Warren had started to enter a right turn-off which leads to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Highway 101, then changed her mind.

Wreck Hurts Sailors, Girls

Two San Rafael girls and two apprentice Navy firemen were hurt when their car left the road early today at a Sir Francis Drake Highway intersection 1.7 miles east of Olema.

Patricia Ann Asnault, 17, with fractured left wrist and cut arm, and Thelma Dean White, 19, with face and scalp cuts, both of 109 Ross Court, were in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital.

William Patrick Maloney, 19, driver of the car and from 184 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax, suffered a possible fracture of the left arm for which he was treated at Marin General Hospital and then transferred to Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland as was his shipmate of the USS Agerholm, Jeffrey M. Crews, 19, whose left knee was sprained.

Maloney had been driving east at 12:45 a.m., went wide and left the road at the intersection, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The club would like to build on land leased from the city adjacent to the Standard Oil Co. installation on the San Rafael Canal and near the city's corporation yard.

"A bare and unattractive part of the canal would be developed into a real public improvement," he said.

The club proposes a 80-foot-by-30-foot clubhouse of concrete block construction with a 12-foot deck extending over the water.

Mayor John F. McInnis asked that the club submit a plot plan to show exactly the location proposed for the buildings. Councilmen indicated they would look with favor on the project if it can be fitted properly to the land. They also asked the club to suggest how long a lease of the land it would expect before going ahead with the project.

"I guess we're the only city in Northern California that has no boating facilities," commented Councilman Fred Jensen.

"We'll never win by not trying to do something about it. I'll help. The conservation people will help. The scenic roads people will help."

He said Highway 1 "Represents one of the very few areas in our country where there is a large open area where people can approach. Yosemite and Yellowstone, we visit only once or twice in our lives."

"It's a travesty that the greatest thing Marin has and the whole west coast has in very serious danger of disappearing forever. Once done, you can't go back to the old road."

"We should be very careful to try to hang on to what we can in the exploding population of the type of country that is represented north of the Golden Gate. If you have any doubt, ride south and see what you see."

C. F. Greene, assistant district engineer of the division of highways in San Francisco, said the state legislature has designated shoreline highway as a freeway mainly to give the state right to control access.

"With control of access and proper zoning," he said, "you can keep things pretty much as you want them to be."

"Any cutting at all creates a scar," contended Green. "If you widen 10 feet, the slope point may go up the mountain 100 feet. It's not just a simple thing of widening the road 10 feet."

Chairman of the meeting, a session of the club's civic and conservation section, was Mrs. R. Lennart Iglehart.

of different type businesses to build on the property, I don't feel the zoning would be a desirable change."

Councilman Raymond L. De Young: "There will be a need for additional professional office space in the future at this location, I don't feel the rezoning is necessary."

Councilman Bud Cole (Sitting on the council for the first time last night): "There is enough additional commercial zoned space in the town and I don't feel it necessary to change the zoning of professional to commercial."

Dr. John Harris of 5 Monte Vista Larkspur, chairman of the Marin Cooperative Center Committee, after the council's decision told a reporter: "We will now look for other sites to build the market, both in Corte Madera and other parts of Marin County. Our membership is disappointed that we have been unable to find a site in Corte Madera."

Burglar Frightened From Marinwood Home

A burglar who carefully put a latch chain on a door before searching for loot apparently was frightened away from a Marinwood home Sunday when the owner returned.

Leo O'Donnell of 2180 Las Gallinas Avenue told sheriff's deputies he found the front was latched with the chain, the rear door ajar and a rear window open. A tape recorder was on the floor near the door. Nothing was missing, O'Donnell said.

of Tamalpais High and attended College of Marin. From there he went to the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Following his graduation, he taught English, mathematics and navigation at the academy. He has studied at the University of Mexico and did graduate work at San Francisco State College from 1958 through last year.

Witherow is now teaching Spanish and is head of the language department of Oceana High School in Daly City. He is married and has two daughters.

Hull, now teaching English, journalism and remedial reading at University of San Francisco night school, is also an executive assistant at USF. Married with four children, he taught English at USF during 1956 and 1957. His experience also included teaching English at Delano High School in Kern County in 1957-58 and at Capuchino High School in San Bruno in 1958-59. He received his bachelor's degree from USF in 1956.

The trustees accepted the resignations of Harriet Crabb, girls' vice principal at Sir Francis Drake High School, and Jack Danielson, district psychologist.

Mrs. Crabb of Fairfax is resigning in June because her husband's work is taking him out of Marin. Danielson, of Terra Linda, will be director of guidance and personnel with the Jefferson Elementary School District, Daly City.

In other business last night, the trustees:

1. Granted maternity leave to Mrs. Ruth Sluser, special education science teacher at Tamalpais high.
2. Selected an offered price of $750 for a 60-by-1,500 strip of property adjoining the Redwood High school campus. The district had offered $625 for the land, which is owned by Pifer properties of San Rafael.
3. Authorized the Marin County treasurer to establish a revolving school fund whereby the county will issue warrants for payment of district bills.

or, "I am officially on record as having received this terrible instrument at 1:12 on March 2."

Franzblau's letter said "our attorneys"—not further identified—had noted defects in the preparations for the election "which may be sufficient to render these annexation proceedings invalid." (The community services district is dependent for legal advice on the office of the county counsel.)

The letter alleged these five errors:

- "1. The affidavits supporting the petitions proposing the annexation indicate that petitions were circulated beginning Aug. 1, 1960, instead of Aug. 5, 1960, in direct conflict with the statute . . .
- "2. The petitions signed between Nov. 2 and Nov. 6, 1960 (about 65 names) were unsupported by any affidavits.
- "3. The 'certificate of sufficiency' which was delivered by the city clerk to the City of San Rafael Council, attesting to the presence of an adequate number of valid names on the petitions is undated. What is more important is that the county clerk neither participated in the verification of the signatures . . . nor signed the 'certificate of sufficiency' as required by law . . .
- "4. A serious defect . . . revolves around the improper consideration of two separate political entities which are markedly dissimilar in the same annexation proceedings . . ." (Franzblau referred to territory which is within the community services district and that which is not.)
- "5. Serious doubts have also been raised by our counsel as to the rejection of the protest petitions to halt the election." These petitions, on behalf of the publicly owned lands, should have been figured on the basis of market value rather than assessed value, Franzblau contended.

Mayor McInnis noted that the city council had followed advice of the city attorney throughout in the legal steps setting up the election, and directed that Franzblau's letter be filed.

He expressed regret that "this has become such an issue in Terra Linda," and declared: "I honestly believe they have created their own issues. I don't think we have been responsible for the hubbub."

The city council will meet a half hour early—at 7:30 p.m.—on March 20 for canvass of the election results.

Sentence Delayed In Surgery Case

Sentencing of Belvedere abortionist Anita Venza, 54, was postponed again yesterday until 4 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Venza pleaded guilty to performing abortions at her home in Belvedere last year.

Her attorney, Sol Abrams, asked for a postponement because the probation officer's report was just handed to him yesterday and he had not had time to read it. Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court granted the postponement.

Private School Chief To Testify On Bill

James W. Karchanski, director of the 3-R Schools of San Rafael and Calistoga, will go to Sacramento tomorrow to testify before the state Senate's legislative committee on education.

He has been invited by Sen. Hugo Fisher (D-San Diego) to comment on the pending Fisher bill, which would simplify certification of teachers and reduce the number of teaching method courses required. Karchanski will speak for the bill.

Pioneer S.F. Architect Meyer Dies

Frederick H. Meyer, 84, one of the last of San Francisco's pioneer architects and a resident of Marin County about 30 years, died yesterday in a local hospital after a week's illness.

A widower, Meyer lived at 98 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito.

Meyer was born on Telegraph Hill in San Francisco, the son of a skilled cabinet maker. He started his career in the early 1890s as a draftsman for a planing mill. He began the practice of architecture before 1900.

He was a member of the San Francisco Civic Center Commission in 1913-15 and was co-architect of the Civic Auditorium.

During his career he was architect for 15 large office and commercial buildings, 10 industrial plants, including three large breweries, eight hospitals, three schools, eight city of San Francisco projects, including firehouses, branch libraries and the DeYoung art galleries in Golden Gate Park and five major club and association buildings.

One of the buildings he designed, the Humboldt Bank Building, was the first important structure built on Market Street after the 1906 earthquake and fire.

Meyer retired about five years ago from the firm of Meyer and Evers, in which he was a partner with Albert Evers of Ross.

He was past president of the Northern California chapter and regional director of the American Institute of Architects, member of the State Board of Architecture for many years, one of the founders and for many years a director of the California State Automobile Assn., a director of the Redwood Empire Assn., active in the California Roadside Council and member of the Bohemian Club.

He was a yacht owner and for a long time a member of the Corinthian, Marin and Inverness Yacht Clubs. For several seasons he was commodore of the Corinthian club.

His wife, Belle, died many years ago. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Cedric Clute of Ross; a son, Norton Meyer of Sausalito; a sister, Sophie Meyer of Berkeley; a brother, William Meyer of Sacramento; three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at Gray's, San Francisco. Interment will be at Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

DeLaMONTANYA

A 3-year-old San Rafael-born girl, who had moved with her family to Cotati, Sonoma County, only last Friday, died yesterday apparently of a throat obstruction while eating an apple.

She was Julio DeLaMontanya, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson DeLaMontanya who formerly lived at 33 Bayview Street, San Rafael. The father is a route salesman for Lucas Valley Dairy.

A post-mortem examination was being performed today in Petaluma to determine the precise nature of the accident.

Funeral services will be held

A U.N. spokesman warned that "if the United Nations fail to get back by peaceful means, it is empowered to use force as a last resort if necessary."

Five men of a Danish supply unit were the only U.N. personnel remaining in Matadi after the surrender and evacuation of the 135-man Sudanese garrison and a nine-member Canadian communications unit Sunday. The withdrawal came after more than 24 hours of battle in which two Sudanese were killed and 13 wounded. Twelve Sudanese were missing.

Drainage Area Plea Received

Directors of the Tiburon Sanitary District last night received a petition to form a drainage district in the Zelnisky Pond area but will defer it to the county, Secretary Robert A. Sterling said.

The district was asked by engineer Kenneth A. Frost, representing several property owners within the proposed assessment district, to consider its formations within the sanitary district. The area to be included runs from the Southern Marin Recreation Center to the boardwalk shopping area.

Most of us are familiar with muscles like the biceps and triceps in the upper arm, and the thigh and calf muscles, but few of us are aware that there are nearly 700 muscles in the human body. The great majority of these are in pairs evenly distributed from scalp to toes and fingertips.

The muscles which move or act when we want them to are known as the striped muscles. They are the visible muscles which cover the body surface and the limbs. Some muscle tissue, however, is subject to the commands of nature only, and these are the smooth muscles. The heart muscle is a good example because it keeps on working under the guidance of nature whether we're asleep or awake, conscious or unconscious.

All muscles rely on the nervous system for the source of their power. A vast network of nerves supplies every single muscle with vital energy from the brain.

Muscular Paralysis Often Caused By Defective Spine

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

The nerve supply to a group of muscles sometimes will fail and paralysis occurs.

The cause of the failure often will be found in the spine where a spinal bone (vertebra) has been pushed out of line. The misplaced bone may be pinching the nerve which supplies the paralyzed muscle. Fortunately, such conditions often can be corrected by Chiropractic.

Chiropractors are specialists in finding and correcting nerve interference in the spine painlessly and efficiently by means of hand adjustments. If the interference is corrected in time, before permanent damage can occur, the nerve once again will convey its full quota of power to the affected muscle. The paralyzed muscles then will regain much, if not all, of their former strength and usefulness.

Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C. practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201. (Adv.)

Lunch Counter Sit-In Approved In Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga., (UPI)—A group of leading Atlanta merchants and Negro leaders announced today that Negroes would be allowed to eat at most department and drug store lunch counters and would call off their sit-in movement.

Council Due Parking Plan For Sausalito

Recommendations for two parking spaces per dwelling unit, "more reasonable lot sizes" and more open space per lot are to be made to the Sausalito City Council April 4 by the Sausalito Citizens Advisory Zoning Committee.

The committee, headed by Alan H. Scurfield, met last night to make its report on its one-year study of proposed zoning of hotels, apartments, duplexes and single family residences. The committee gave general approval of the recommendations, Scurfield said.

Scurfield said that "more reasonable lot sizes" refers to the committee's efforts to hold to the smallest lot size of each zone rather than upgrading the lots to larger sizes and thus making them "non-conforming."

Heights of buildings would remain at the present 32-foot limit but the committee would allow cupolas, chimneys and elevator shafts to exceed that height.

A map showing the proposed zoning, and a chart showing land uses, offstreet parking and setbacks, will be presented to the city council with the report. Scurfield said.

cut victory for the Atlanta group of the widespread sit-in movement.

The announcement was subscribed to by Atlanta's two major department stores and by 11 chain drug and variety stores representing about 45 stores.

Also signing were Dr. Martin Luther King Sr., father of the well-known Negro integration leader, and Lonnie C. King, Negro student leader.

The statement said "leading merchants have stated that it is their decision to carry out in lunch rooms and other facilities the same pattern as has been recognized and evidenced" by admission of two Negro students to the University of Georgia, decision of the Atlanta School Board to comply with federal integration orders this fall and actions of the late Georgia general assembly in repealing the state's massive resistance anti-segregation laws.

The statement was subscribed to by Rich's and Davidson's department stores, by the Walgren, Jacobs, and Lane's drug chains, and by the Woolworth, McCrory, Grant, S. H. Kress, H. L. Green and Newberry variety chains. Sears Roebuck also signed.

HOT IDEA TURNS OUT TO BE COLD TOMALE

A well-planned walking trip to Mexico by three San Rafael grade school boys got off to a good start yesterday, but ended when night set in.

John Donald McDuffee, 12, of 102 Coleman Drive; John Francis Broadhead Jr., 12, of 1445 Lincoln Avenue, and James Edward Malone, 13, of 1409 Clinton Court left about 4:15 p.m. yesterday.

They had camping gear, food, first aid equipment, a tent, sleeping bags, knives, including a machete, a 22-caliber rifle, a pellet gun, two boxes of 22-caliber shells and $5.10 in cash.

The three Davidson School pupils hiked out into the hills. After it got dark, they decided to return.

In the meantime, worried parents reported the boys missing. San Rafael police picked them up at 7:10 p.m. at Lincoln Avenue and Wilson Court.

Remodeling Approved

Tiburon Fire Protection District commissioners last night accepted the notice of completion for remodeling of the main fire station.

Dillon Sees Upturn During Next Quarter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon told Congress today Kennedy administration economic experts look for an upturn in the nation's economy "sometime" during the quarter which starts April 1.

At the same time he estimated that the recession has cut at least 1.5 million dollars from the 1962 federal revenues forecast by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower of his outgoing budget.

Dillon, testifying before the joint economic committee, also said the new administration feels it can operate within the present 4 1/2 per cent interest ceiling on long-term bonds.

ACADEMIC ISSUE
He said the interest rate issue—a hot one in the last Congress—"has become an academic one."

With a Kennedy administration budget review scheduled for later this month, many government officials expect recession-caused revenue losses, the 1962 budget to be in the red. This is because of Kennedy's anti-recession measures, and expected defense spending increases.

Dillon discussed the revenue outlook in testimony before the house-senate economic committee.

REVENUES TO BE LESS
He said "it is now clear that revenues in fiscal 1962 cannot help but be less" than the $2.3 billion dollars projected by Eisenhower in his final budget, which went to Congress Jan. 16.

Dillon said Eisenhower's estimate of 46 billion dollars of corporate profits in calendar 1961 was "too high, possibly by as much as three billion dollars. In addition personal income may fall somewhat short of the 41.5 billion" Eisenhower estimated.

With the maximum corporate profits tax at 52 per cent, treasury officials figure that a three-billion-dollar drop in profits would cost the government 1.5 billion in taxes.

CURTAIN HAS ITS OWN CALL AT THEATER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The curtain really fell during the last act at Longacre Theater last night.

The curtain, which producer Leo Kerz described as "old and moth-eaten," tore into shreds in mid-act. The lower half, weighted with a long rod, fell to the stage.

The performance was halted for 12 minutes while the torn fabric was cleared away. Members of the cast of "Rhinoceros" entertained the audience with jokes in the interim.

School Aide Salary Still Up In Air

The Marin County Board of Education made another try last night at raising Asst. Schools Supt. Rudolph S. Kupfer's salary.

The problem, which has plagued the board for months came before it again last night when the county counsel's office ruled that the way the board had tried to do it last month is not legal.

Kupfer is paid by the County of Marin for his services as chief of the schools' business services. He is also paid by the school services fund for his work as a consultant to individual schools.

Thus far the board has been unable to find a legal way in which it can pay more than the regular county salary scale of an assistant department head in full county employment. This is $11,160, which is what Kupfer now receives.

But Richard Hinze, the other assistant superintendent, paid entirely by the schools service fund, gets $13,383. Hinze gets four weeks vacation; Kupfer, only two. The board wants to give them equal pay.

Last night board members voted that the county would pay for 75 per cent of Kupfer's time at the county salary rate, and that the schools service fund, which is state money, would pay for the remaining 25 per cent of his time at a rate high enough to give him a total salary not exceeding Hinze's.

Now it will be up to the county council to decide if this method of paying Kupfer is legal.

New Airliner Unveiled As 'Fastest Yet'

American Airlines unveiled its new Astrojet airliner at San Francisco International Airport yesterday.

The unveiling took the form of a demonstration flight for Bay Area newsmen, including representatives of the Independent-Journal and KTIM.

Powered by newly developed Pratt and Whitney JT3D turbofan jets, the Astrojet will be the fastest commercial airliner in the sky when it goes into service next week.

TO START SERVICE
American will inaugurate its San Francisco-New York non-stop service April 30 with Astrojets.

Astrojet is a rebuilt Boeing 707 with four jet fan engines giving power the equivalent of five conventional jet engines.

Added power enables it to take off quicker, climb faster, cruise with huge fuel savings and cut nearly a half hour off the flying time to New York.

In yesterday's demonstration ride, Capt. Robert Baker got the 94-ton ship off the runway in 21 seconds, reaching the 135-miles-per-hour takeoff speed from a standing start in a few short plane-lengths. By the time the 118-passenger craft passed over Bayshore freeway, it had climbed to 2,500 feet. By the time it reached Pacifica and turned south at the shoreline, it was flying at 6,000 feet and still climbing. Less than 10 minutes later, approaching Santa Cruz, the altimeter reached 30,000 feet.

TO FULL POWER
Above Monterey Bay, Baker opened up the engines approaching full power, attaining a flying speed of .9 Mach, nine-tenths of the speed of sound or more than 600 miles per hour.

Most of the return trip to San Francisco from Monterey was made with little or no power on, demonstrating the ability of the airplane to glide long distances.

Capt. Baker was careful to explain that the flight was a demonstration of the plane's capabilities and not the way it would be flown in regular passenger service.

Tom Barbour of Mill Valley, American Airlines public relations manager in San Francisco, was host for the flight.

Hugh Turner recorded much of the flight description for broadcast on KTIM's "Man on the Street" program at 12:30 and 5:45 p.m. today.

SHIP, PLANE SHORTAGE

U.S. Ability To Move In Brush War Doubted

By BEM PRICE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The ability of the United States to intervene quickly and effectively in brushfire war appears to be in serious doubt because of airlift and sealfit shortages.

This harsh fact came to light last night after a Pentagon source disclosed the contents of the limited war requirements study completed earlier this year just prior to the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy. In his State of the Union message Jan. 30, Kennedy said he had directed prompt action to increase U.S. airlift capacity.

Checking the requirements study with other Pentagon sources these figures emerged:

The Air Force has fewer than half the planes needed to fly a full division of 17,000 men to a combat area and sustain it in action there for 30 days. The Navy has barely enough troop ships operating in the Atlantic to sealfit half a Marine division.

If hard pressed in the Pacific, however, the Navy could muster enough transports to move one reinforced Marine division—20,000 men.

In brief, although the United States has seven combat-ready divisions—four Army and three Marine—it does not have the ability now to put them into the field swiftly.

To make up its deficit in airlift and sealfit, the president would have to commandeer some U.S. commercial aircraft and ships in a fast-developing emergency.

An alternative insofar as shipping is concerned would be to dip into the World War II mothball fleet, but this would require time. Furthermore, the Navy would have to use reservists to man these ships.

The limited war study was predicted on a hypothetical requirement: What would it take to put an airborne division and an infantry division in the field and sustain both in combat for 60 days?

Under the plan the airborne division would be lifted with a basic 30-day supply and would be followed by sea by the infantry division.

While lightly armed airborne troops may be moved with relative swiftness, reinforcements with heavy equipment such as tanks and bulldozers must come by sea.

To meet this two-division requirement and that of their support troops—80,000 men in all—the Pentagon study estimated slightly more than 1,000 transport aircraft would be necessary plus 26 troop transports and assorted support vessels.

The United States now has about 450 transport aircraft available for strategic airlift while the Navy has only 11 troop transports on active sea routes.

Richardson Bay Dredging Passed

ager A. E. Almcraants from the State Division of Small Craft Harbors.

This letter agreed that "such a channel" as Zoro is willing to tackle "would be acceptable as a temporary interim solution... subject to a Marin County-sponsored Saucelito Canal project."

Technical questions were raised about the proposal of 40-foot bottom minimum width, minimum depth, how the dredged material will be used, and how the small channel can be kept open until the county can proceed with its full sized project, presently held up by lack of money pending necessary land exchanges.

Both the signer of the letter, administrative officer E. A. Curtis, and the division's director, Lackland Richards, were present, as were Almcraants, Mill Valley Councilman George D. Monardo and a number of Richardson Bay property owners.

Chief "anti" spokesman was Julius H. Selinger, attorney representing the California Inland Harbors and Fishing Resorts Assn., which he said had 75 to 80 members operating small craft harbors on a private basis and in opposition to "programs of lending taxpayers' money to put the government into businesses."

Selinger said his group has opposed Mill Valley's cherished plan for a $300,000 state loan for small craft harbor development, when it was up for discussion in Sacramento, and "the Saucelito Channel is in much the same situation."

"I hope the supervisors will not act," said Selinger. "Let it lie. It is ill-advised, premature and may lead to complications."

Monardo and Almcraants protested that private enterprise wasn't involved except that in this matter a cooperation of private enterprise with government could get a worthy project "off the ground." Said Almcraants:

"We just want an interim permit to dredge a channel, not to debate whether the state program is right or wrong. That's not on our level."

Manuel D. Gomez of Mill Valley, a leader among the private owners supporting the project, indignantly declared: "Zoro is a private enterprise... Every time anybody wants to do something good, somebody has all the answers, but has our opponent made any study? We're ready to go. Our opponent is 10 years too late."

Speakers included Mill Valley's Stanley M. Bala to testify that the channel was a good minimum first step, among other things helping flood control — an argument that won Supervisor William Gnos.

Many property owners rose to say that their interests would be furthered, including those of Commodore Aviation. But a letter from Blair said that though he wanted to do anything to help Mill Valley, he felt "the best solution would be an assessment district for dredging the Saucelito Canal."

Chairman William D. Fusselman said he also favored the assessment district but would support the project in view of the state's attitude that this would get Mill Valley out of its loan dilemma. Supervisor Walter R. Castro agreed.

But Ludy said this was going to benefit only South Marin. "I live on a bay too and I have my own end to look after," he continued. "I go along with Blair for a private assessment district... That $300,000 is from the state but you and I are paying for it."

Both Bagshaw and his wife Margery, are graduates of Tamalpais High School. Bagshaw attended University of California at Davis, A son, Jon, attends College of Marin, and another son, David, is a junior at San Rafael High School. A daughter, Sheila, a graduate of San Rafael High, is a senior at University of California Medical Center.

Mill Valleyan Suspected Of Dope Supply

A Mill Valley furniture refinisher was jailed last night on suspicion that he has been furnishing marijuana to a 21-year-old woman in Fairfax.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos identified the suspect as Frank Charles Fischer, 26, of 424 Shoreline Highway, apartment 2. Fischer is in county jail in lieu of $5,250 bail and was scheduled to be arraigned in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

The girl, taken to San Rafael General Hospital as a narcotics addict, was jailed Sunday. However, Inspector Richard J. Argento said no charge will be filed against her.

Inspectors Argento and Sears, Fairfax police and Investigator William Bemiss of the district attorney's office arrested Fischer at his home last night. Argento said officers found some marijuana in a can at Fischer's home.

This case is not connected with the arrest of three men last week on narcotics charges after a raid on a cottage at Greenbrae Boardwalk.

Santa Rosan Suspected Of Assault

A Santa Rosa man, accused of pointing a rifle at two sheriff's deputies in Marin City yesterday, was jailed on suspicion of felony assault.

He is Richard Maurice Page, 23, who arrived in Marin City while Deputies Charles Prandi and Harold Sleezer were helping ambulance attendants capture Page's wife, Hilda.

Sarah Coleman of 155 Drake Avenue called the sheriff for help in getting Mrs. Page. Sarah's sister, to the hospital because she was emotionally disturbed. While deputies were trying to get Mrs. Page into a car, Page appeared with a rifle and leveled it at them, Deputy Prandi reported.

Mrs. Nancy DuPont of House 218, mother of Mrs. Page, induced Page to give up the gun. Page was jailed, and his wife taken to Ross General Hospital.

Officers quoted Page as saying, "Take your hands off my wife and don't hurt her." He told the officers not to take his wife anywhere.

Environment Called Marin's Planning Key

The most important factor in Marin County planning for the future is environment.

This was the thought expressed by Mary Summers, Marin County planning director, in a talk to the Marin County Real Estate Board breakfast meeting at King Cotton Restaurant today.

A near-record attendance of 89 Real Estate Board members heard Mrs. Summers give her views on the "Marin County Master Plan, 1961" and its application to forthcoming development.

EXAMPLE OF PLANNING
She cited as an example in good planning the proposed development of the San Geronimo Valley which was originally laid out in small lots and roads, many of which have never been built.

She credited the Lagunitas Land and Development Co. and engineers Daniel Coleman and Associates with great effort in trying to determine what the land itself suggested in environment and deciding against a central sewage system which would only serve to make road-building more difficult.

Queried on highway routing through San Geronimo Valley, she said the California Division of Highways is making surveys on the most appropriate course, which probably will hug the hills to the north.

In regard to the Nicasio area she said the planning department is doing nothing about laying out roads at this time. Nicasio residents, she added, are getting together on a plan and will probably ask the planning commission to work with them.

REGIONAL BASES
She has recommended a complete review of the Marin County highway and freeway system to the Division of Highways, because, she said, "It is too much of a job for us to go it alone. The whole thing should be considered on a regional basis along with the rest of the Bay Area by competent engineers."

Mrs. Summers had no specific recommendations on where a road should be planned from Sleepy Hollow to Terra Linda. She agreed that a road was needed badly and the most practical route should be taken.

"How about the Miracle Mile?" asked managed Daniel E. Deedy of the Real Estate Board.

"That," she concluded with a grin, "is not my problem. It belongs to the cities of San Rafael and San Anselmo."

Pianist To Play At Marin College
William Corbett Jones, a classical pianist, will play before an assemblage of College of Marin students at 11 a.m. tomorrow in Olney Hall. The program is open to the public.

Jones is a teacher at the San Francisco Conservatory and soloist with the San Francisco Symphony. He will play selections from the works of Rachmaninoff.

Reviews Use Plan
The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission met last night with landscape architects Osmundson and Staley to review preliminary land use sketches for the recreation area at Miller Creek and Lucas Valley Roads. Another meeting is scheduled Thursday at 8 p.m. at Mary Silveira School to continue the review.

Air Reservist Tells Of Narrow Escape

Two Marin Air Force reserve crewmen were back at their civilian jobs today after almost having to ditch a plane in the Atlantic off the coast of France.

One engine of the C-119 Flying Boxcar, being ferried from Europe to the 349th Reserve Troop Carrier Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base, went out 250 to 300 miles over the Atlantic.

Crewmen succeeded in feathering the propeller while the engine streamed black smoke from a broken oil line. Flying with the one remaining engine, the plane dropped from 8,000 to 3,500 feet before the crew could level it off by dumping some 3,000 pounds of equipment.

"I knew we wouldn't make it if we had to ditch," Maj. John P. Lippitt of Larkspur said today. Lippitt is an instructor in business administration at City College of San Francisco when not on reserve duty.

As the plane began losing altitude, Lippitt was thinking he was "Glad I just took out a $15,000 insurance policy."

The cargo plane had taken off from Dreux Air Force base in France. It landed at Chateauroux and took off again for the over-water hop to the Azores.

It was 655 miles out of Chateauroux when the oil line broke, navigator Lippitt said.

Crewmen opened the rear door of the plane, meant for loading and parachuting of equipment, and jettisoned "everything in sight" except life rafts and personal belongings.

A check of maps showed the closest landing strip was Santiago de Compostela, in northwest Spain, 275 miles away.

Capt. Millard A. Ford, pilot from Eureka, and First Lt. Richard L. Olson, co-pilot from Berkeley, pushed the plane to the seldom-used field. Ford is a commercial pilot in civilian life. Olson is a genetics research assistant at University of California.

On board were S/Sgt. Lloyd Bowen of Novato, flight engineer, in civilian life a candy maker; A/2c Robert Rutensman, radio operator from Portland, Ore., and Lippitt.

The airport was closed down by the time the plane arrived, about 6:30 p.m., Feb. 22. A Spanish janitor finally radioed the plane landing directions.

"They treated us like kings," Lippitt said. A photo in a local Spanish newspaper shows the crew standing formally in dress blues. An interview in the paper refers to the crew, particularly Bowen, as "humorists" and as being "big and strong."

Lippitt told the Spanish reporter that driving in the United States was more dangerous than flying because of women drivers.

Crewmen waited days for weather to clear so that spare parts could be ferried in. On a test hop to the Air Force base near Madrid, the other engine showed signs of malfunction.

Crewmen flew the plane back to Dreux, left it there and came home the way they went to Europe—as passengers on military Air Transport and commercial air lines. They arrived at Hamilton Sunday.

City-County Road Plan Fails To Make Grade

By RANDAL GOULD
Marin County's prospects for a city-county pact to maintain principal arterial roads were blown off in a gust of William D. Fusselman's indignation yesterday when the supervisors' chairman discovered that gasoline tax money was involved in a proposed contract.

Nine cities, excluding Belvedere, had been potential parties to a deal which took up many meetings of a special "city-county urban thoroughfare" committee last year, but after yesterday's uproar it seemed the agreement had landed in a pigeon-hole.

Fusselman had made his objection to use of gas tax money well apparent at a night meeting last year but County Counsel E. Warren McGuire had followed original planning in his draft.

Since last year's discussions, McGuire had succeeded Leland Jordan, who took part in the planning along with former Administrator D. A. Jensen.

In picking up the work McGuire wrote:

"The program (of integrated city-county major road improvement) can best be financed by the expenditure by the county of a part of its apportionment of the state highway users tax fund . . ."

Fusselman interrupted reading at this point by shouting:

"That doesn't make sense; there isn't enough money. I agree we've got to catch up on the roads sometime between now and the end of the world, but this is foolish."

"No one at any time had an agreement that we would take it out of the gas tax funds."

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, who himself had told city representatives that a $250,000 annual slice of a total $600,000 gas tax take was probably more than the supervisors would tolerate, sought to suggest that the draft be rewritten with money to come from some such source as general property tax.

But in the course of Fusselman's insistence that the present draft was "wrong," something about the theory of doing anything about it dropped down a crack and presently the whole thing was filed.

The supervisors also:

1. Voted funds for Supervisor William Gross and consulting engineer Jasper C. Strandgaard to attend an air space committee meeting in Los Angeles tomorrow for support of enlargement of the county airport.

2. Received and referred to Supervisor J. Walker Blair a request from F. G. Zelinsky to institute one-hour parking on Tiburon's Main Street.

3. Ordered the civic center model, arriving in Phoenix, Ariz., after a federally underwritten trip to Italy, brought back on request of the Marin Art and Garden Club manager for display at the July fair.

4. Told the administrator to advise the California Disaster Office that Marin County won't participate in its program for the 1961-62 fiscal year; withdrawal was already effective from last Jan. 1.

5. Decided to deal singly, rather than in conjunction with five other affected counties, with request from Sunny Hills and other child care institutions for a whopping boost from $160 to $400 monthly fee per child.

6. Authorized the county librarian to spend half the additional funds from elementary schools for purchase of educational materials for school classes, to a total of $28,300, up $2,300.

7. Voted for try-out of a new welfare department record plan changing present voluminous records to IBM card form, initially requiring a $702 index and 36 boxes at $162 but allowing elimination of one employee.

8. Sought more facts on a Larkspur complaint that the county gets 62 per cent of moving violation traffic fines, as compared with lower rates for other cities ranging down to only 13 per cent for San Rafael and Mill Valley.

A walk along Bon Tempe and Alpine Lakes Saturday will be the March field trip of the Marin Audubon Society.

Mrs. Calvin Terwilliger of Mill Valley will lead the trip. Those going will meet at 8:30 a.m. in the driveway behind the College of Marin sign on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield. In case of rain, the trip will be postponed one week.

Dillon Beach Buildings Discussed

The Marin County Planning Commission cannot regulate the height of existing buildings at Dillon Beach.

That was the opinion of the group yesterday after discussion of a complaint by Margaret Walls regarding the height of certain buildings. The commission said the building permits were granted prior to regulatory zoning at Dillon Beach.

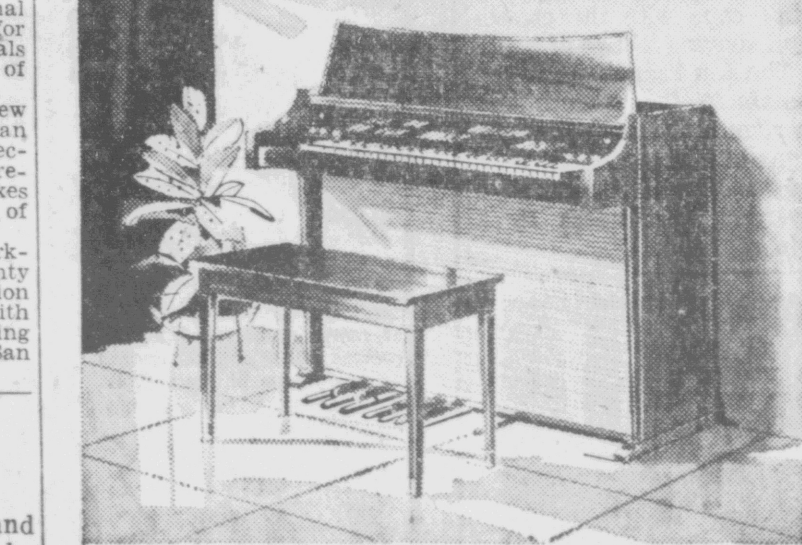

The commissioners approved Oak Manor Unit Four subdivision for 38 lots on 13.1 acres and Walnut Terrace subdivision for 29 lots on 8.4 acres on Trumbull Avenue and Mill Road in the Novato area.

The commission also approved enlarging of the playground at the College of Marin.

Corte Madera Votes $890 For Osteopath

The Corte Madera Town Council agreed last night to pay Dr. Gertrude Casey a settlement of $890 for refusal to permit her to operate a osteopathic practice in her home after it had previously given her the go-ahead.

Dr. Casey's attorney, Fred Robbins Jr., presented the council a bill for $7,555.32 damages at the Feb. 6 meeting which "amazed" Town Atty. John B. Ehlen.

The $890 settlement passed includes a $450 remodeling estimate by William McBride, building inspector; $60 moving costs which will be encountered by Dr. Casey when she moves from her home and office at 22 Mohawk Avenue; and $380 as a reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses since the time the council had given her permission to change her home to include an office.

After the council had given Dr. Casey permission to operate a practice at her home, complaints from other Madera Gardens residents caused the council to change its mind. Court action by Dr. Casey was withdrawn with the understanding she could remain six months in the location.

The chapter's action, the fraternity's high council said, violates the organization's constitution which requires allegiance to Christianity, "just as a man must be a medical student to join a medical fraternity."

The council added in a statement:

"Our Stanford chapter, which was established in 1891, violated this constitutional provision and declared that it would continue to do so. Under the circumstances, the chapter leaves the fraternity no alternative but to place its charter in escrow."

Marin Chorale Plans Program

The Marin Chorale will perform Heinrich Schuetz's "Passion According to St. Matthew" at 5 p.m. Sunday in Stewart Memorial Chapel on the San Francisco Theological Seminary campus in San Anselmo.

Dr. John Milton Kelly, director of the department of sacred music at the seminary, will conduct.

Basso Robert Oliver and tenor Richard Robinson, both of Los Angeles, will be special guest soloists. Also performing will be Mrs. Bernice Usdane, harpsichordist of Mill Valley, and organist Wilbur F. Russell, assistant to Dr. Kelly at the seminary.

County School Budget Increase Indicated

The Marin County Board of Education took the first look last night at proposed budgets for the coming fiscal year. They were up slightly.

The board decided to hold a special meeting next Monday at 8 p.m. to consider them in more detail.

The budget submitted last night by the county superintendent totaled $92,760 for the 1961-62 fiscal year as compared with $91,459 for the current year. However, Supt. Virgil S. Hollis said actual expenses this year would be about $87,506, well under the budget figure.

The miscellaneous education budget of the board showed a larger jump. Requested was $38,786 for the coming year as compared with a budgeted $30,611 for the current year and an estimated $28,981 actual expense.

Much of the increase came in items dealing with school district reorganization. Hollis pointed out that the master plan for the county must be completed by September 1963 and that much of the major expense, and possibly special elections for consolidations will take place in the next fiscal year.

The board read a report from Asst. Supt. Richard Hinze on his recent trip to Southern California to study education experiments being conducted in schools there.

Hinze reported that "team-teaching," in which a team of four teachers and aides works with a large class of about 125 students, was "impressive." He said it permitted "each teacher to bring his full abilities to bear" and that each student was getting greater personal attention as a result.

In Torrance, he reported, the "Little Red Schoolhouse" plan is being used. This is a multi-grade program in which students in two or three grades are grouped together for teaching. "It is working well for Torrance," Hinze declared.

In other action, the board:

1. Accepted a gift of $25 from the Marin Federation of Republican Women for use at the Marin-dale School for handicapped children.

2. Gave final approval to its own rules and regulations which have been under preparation for nearly a year.

3. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Nancy Hayden as secretary to the administrative assistant, and appointed Mrs. Lorene Shannon to replace her.

4. Gave approval to Hinze to accept an offer by the University of California to teach guidance at Berkeley during the summer session.

5. Adopted a resolution proclaiming Public Schools Week April 24 to 28.

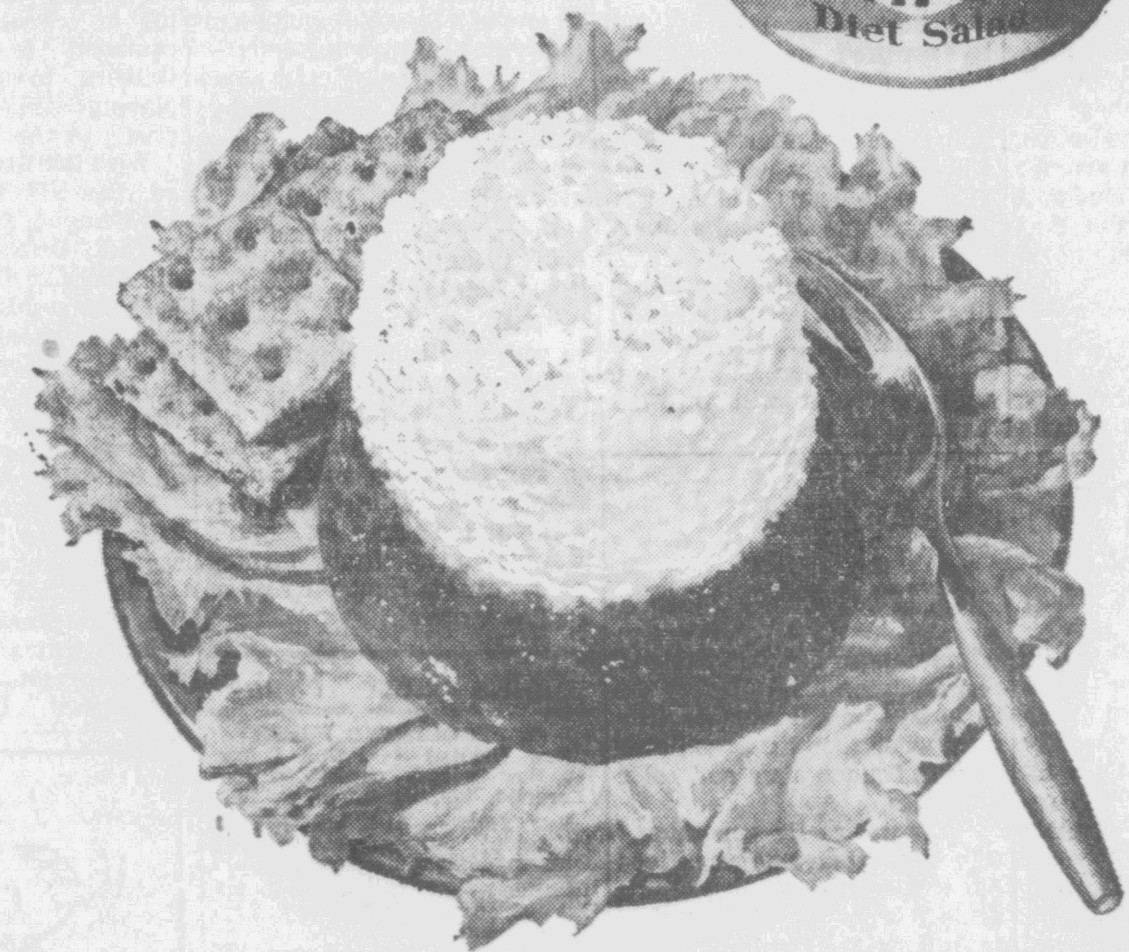

6. Went on record opposing a bill before the legislature, AB 337, which would require all schools to dismiss provisional teachers for cause only.

7. Heard Hollis report he would go to Sacramento on Thursday to oppose Sen. John P. McCarthy's bill to make the state superintendent of public instruction appointive and the state board of education elective.

End Combat Training

Three recent Marine Corps recruits from Marin have completed four weeks of combat training at Camp Pendleton. They are Pvt. Henry R. Abraham, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Abraham of 75 La Vuelta Avenue, Lagunitas; Pvt. Ronald W. Stratton, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stratton of 95 Medway Road, San Rafael, and Pvt. Maitland E. Cline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maitland E. Cline of 68 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo.

Tough Tourneys For Giants, Tars; 'Dimes' All-Star Ball Game Slated

Although most basketball equipment has been stored away for the season, two Marin schools' gymnasiums still echo to the sounds of bouncing roundballs this week.

They're championship teams of Redwood High School and College of Marin, practicing for big tournament dates Thursday. Redwood, as Marin Athletic League titlist, goes to the Tournament of Champions in Berkeley while the Marin Tars, champs for the fifth straight year, motor some 300 miles to Santa Maria for the State Junior College Championships.

A scouting report received by Redwood indicates the Giants' outstanding defense will be put to a stiff test in the T of C opener against the Monterey Torreadors.

While winning 16 of their 21 games this season the Torreadors pumped an average of 56 points per game through the mesh. Their defensive unit was nicked for an average of 44 points a game.

Redwood's defense will have to concentrate mainly on a boy named Bob Jensen who for two straight years was named most valuable player in the Coast Counties League. This season he packs an average of 23.9 points per game, fourth in northern California. In his three-year varsity career, the six-foot-three Jensen has scored more than 1,000 points.

Another dangerous Torreador is a six-foot-four lad named Cooley, who sports a 13.9 average. He, Jensen, and another Torreador named Reed were All-League selections.

Marin Athletic League records show the Giants more defense-minded. Their offense averaged only 41.8 points a game, but the defense was solid, giving up a mere 34.5 points on the average.

While this will mark Monterey's fourth visit to the T of C, it will be Redwood's first time.

They'll square off at 6 p.m. Thursday.

College of Marin, meanwhile, expects a rugged time at Santa Maria. The Tars are paired with the champions of the Metropolitan Conference in Thursday night's first round at 8:30.

Said Tar Coach Cal Riemcke, "I'm not sure who the champ of that league is, but I think it will be Bakersfield. Whoever we play will be an outstanding team because the Metropolitan is a strong league. Their schools have an average enrollment of 5,000 students, largest in the state, and they always come up with top notch teams."

Marin's 16-man entourage—coach, trainer, scorekeeper and 13 players—will leave Wednesday aboard the school bus. They'll stay at the Santa Maria Inn for the three-day tournament.

Best of luck, champs.

FOLLOWERS OF semi-pro baseball in Marin will be amazed to learn that two feudin' managers will join forces on one team in a special game scheduled March 19 in San Rafael.

They are Dom Boccabella, manager of the San Anselmo Ongaro Plumbers, and Eddie Vigno of the Tiburon team.

Bringing them together—and probably the only cause that could bring them together—is the March of Dimes campaign.

The two will serve as coaches on the Marin County All-Star team that will oppose the top notch Gino Benedetti team of San Francisco at San Rafael's Albert Field.

Vigno and Boccabella, who are about as friendly with each other as rattlesnakes, agreed to coach the All-Stars. Don Lauters, a fine semi-pro infielder, will serve as head manager, because the benefit game is his brainstrom.

Lauters decided to put Boccabella as the third base coach and Vigno over in the first base coaching box. That's about as far away as he can put the semi-pro foes and keep them in the same ball park.

Although they'll team up for this one game, Dom and Eddie will renew their bitter rivalry later when the semi-pro season begins.

Lauters, meanwhile, has lined up quite a squad for his Marin All-Stars. At least six former major leaguers will don uniforms once again, including Marin's own outfielder, Sammy Chapman (Philadelphia Athletics) and pitcher Artie Schallock (New York Yankees).

Others who've seen action in the big time coming to the San Rafael game are infielders Reno DeBenedetti (Pittsburgh Pirates), Augie Galan (Chicago Cubs), Ray Hamric (Athletics), and Bill Serena (Cubs).

A host of local heroes will be featured on the All-Star team. Boccabella's Plumbers team will be represented by Bob DeRosa, Ralph Boccabella and Art Camara while Vigno's Tiburon Pelicans will contribute Ed Vigno Jr., Mike Curry and Gene Chaon.

The game will start March 19 at 1:30 p.m. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for anyone under 16. All proceeds, of course, will go to the March of Dimes.

Las Vegas Calms Down After Big Fight Furore

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (P)—Gene Fullmer and Sugar Ray Robinson—studied in contrast in the ring—pursued their equally contradictory private lives today and let this desert city recover from the shock of their battles.

Harried James Gay, acting chairman of the State Athletic Commission, relaxed for the first time in several days and reported:

"I've never had such relief in my life. I was right in the middle. I actually had a slight heart attack."

Gay bore the brunt of shouted exchanges between Fullmer and Robinson camps before the Saturday middleweight title fight when they disagreed over ring and glove sizes and color of trunks.

"This was really something," Gay said. "Under no conditions do I want to go through it again."

Fullmer, the mauling, clinching champion, departed Sunday to tend his mink and horses in West Jordan, Utah. Manager Marv Jensen stuck around to pick up checks Monday totaling $115,000.

Robinson's challenger share of the purse was $84,000.

He picked up the money yesterday after athletic commissioners huddled for six hours to decide whether he and his camp should be disciplined for threatening to walk out on the fight.

The commission decided to take no action.

Boys Needed For Colt League Team In Twin Cities

Final signups for the Twin Cities Colt League baseball team will be held Saturday, 12 noon, at Corte Madera city hall, it was announced today.

In previous signups only six boys registered, but at least 20 more are needed, according to Dick Jewett, spokesman for the team. "This is their last chance to sign up," Jewett said, "and if we don't get better response we'll have to drop the team."

Colt League is for 15-16-year-olds.

Ingo To End His Workouts Tomorrow

PALM BEACH, Fla. (P)—Ingemar Johansson's private countdown had reached two today, meaning that tomorrow will be his final workout for his title quest against heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in Miami Beach Monday night.

After tomorrow Ingo will just sit tight, girding his strength to regain the crown.

He made several things clear after yesterday's workout, during which he again boxed a total of six rounds with three sparring partners.

Johansson said Patterson won't clip him with a left hook as he did in knocking Ingemar out in their second meeting last June. He said he was caught inexplicably motionless in midring, right hand raised in sort of a salute. It won't happen again, he promised.

He also declared his right hand will shoot out so fast that if he misses with it, Patterson won't have time to cross a left over it before he closes in.

Ingemar also confirmed what many thought he had noticed. He is fighting lower now.

"That way when a guy rushes you, you can withstand the charge, and not be carried backward," he explained.

The burly Swede said he had no apprehensions about being knocked cold again; that he has no mental block that would prevent him from turning loose with his right for fear of a quick reprisal.

National Invitational Tourney Chiefs Jolted As Bradley Turns Down Invite

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things are getting so gummed up in the late-hour drive to close the fields for the two major college basketball tournaments that even usually anxious coaches are saying "no" and conferences are having coin-flipping playoffs to determine where game playoffs will be staged.

Officials of the National Invitation Tournament are hectoring scanning the list of availables for a replacement for a defending champion they thought they had signed, sealed and delivered. Tournament controllers of the NCAA championships are puzzling over a 24-team lineup that is only two-thirds completed with the start of scrambling only a week away.

The NIT got a startling refusal yesterday from defending champion Bradley, which said no, thanks, after a long meeting of school officials and a comment from Coach Ozzie Orsborn, to wit: "We aren't playing well enough to be a credit to the tournament."

With the Braves not interested, the NIT lineup stands at 11.

Memphis State, Providence, DePaul, Detroit, Army, Miami of Florida, Dayton, Temple, Niagara, and Holy Cross, which accepted Monday, are definite. The 11th spot will go to the loser of the Colorado State U. Utah clash for the Skyline Conference title and NCAA berth on Saturday. Who is no. 12?

Maybe Duquesne, maybe La Salle, maybe NYU—the NIT wasn't saying as of early today.

The NCAA lineup remains full of vacancies—with three at-large teams and five conference representatives still to be determined. Last night, New Mexico State further scrambled the picture by beating Hardin-Simmons 88-72 and forcing a playoff with Arizona State U. for the Border Conference berth. They'll flip a coin to decide where and when the playoff will be held.

Work also began last night on unraveling the three-team tangle in the Ohio Valley Conference. Morehead of Kentucky, with Granny Williams' 26 points helping overcome a 10-point halftime deficit, beat Eastern Kentucky 55-54. That eliminated Eastern but Morehead now advances to a showdown playoff with Western Kentucky at Louisville tomorrow. That finally will decide what had wound in a three-way title tie on Saturday in the OVC.

Another NCAA berth could be determined tonight. Loyola of Los Angeles can become the West Coast Athletic Conference champ, undisputed, by licking Pepperdine. If Loyola loses, San Francisco (playing at Santa Clara) could still tie and there would have to be another playoff.

Last night's scores:
Louisville 75, Marquette 50
Indiana 80, Wisconsin 69
Michigan State 74, Iowa 64
Michigan 74, Illinois 66
Kansas 85, Iowa State 75
Missouri 97, Nebraska 76
Colorado 52, Oklahoma 45
New Mexico State 88, Hardin-Simmons 72
Morehead (Ky.) 55, Eastern Kentucky 54.

Bobby Sanders Wins Dull Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Bobby Sanders, a San Francisco playground instructor, bulled his way to a 10-round decision over Frankie Ramirez of Los Angeles in a dull welterweight bout last night at Kezar Pavilion.

Sanders came in at 148 pounds, while Ramirez weighed 145.

Ramirez occasionally switched to a southpaw stance, but he couldn't cope with the crowding and shoving tactics of Sanders. The San Franciscan rolled up points in the seventh and ninth rounds as Ramirez showed signs of tiring.

Referee Frankie Carter gave the verdict to Sanders by a margin of 7-1.

S.R. Teams Tops In Tourney; Lad, 14, Shoots 289 And 658

Only three pins separate the first two teams in the Marin County Bowling Assn. five-man team tournament, it was announced today by Nave Lanes, site of the competition over the weekend.

The leaders are Filippo Construction with a 3125 total score and Trailorboat Engineering Co. with 3122 pins. Both teams are from the Country Club Bowl's "900 Classic" league in San Rafael.

Doubles and singles are being conducted at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael and will conclude next weekend.

At Country Club, meanwhile, the Jackpot Doubles tournament bank was broken last week by Ray Combes and Lou Knittell. A score of 1395, including handicap, was needed and Combes-Knittell barely made it with 1397.

Combes, a 162 average bowler, rolled games of 212, 221 and 222 for a rousing 656. Knittell, 170 average, chipped in with games of 175, 213 and 217 for a substantial 605. They used 136 handicap pins.

A 14-year-old Novato boy popped into bowling headlines Sunday with a champion-like performance at Nave Lanes.

He is Paul Panholzer who in one game chalked up 10 straight strikes, missed the pesky six pin on the 11th frame, and wound up with a great 289 game. His other counts of 203 and 166 gave him a 658 series in his Novato High Kev Club match.

Young Panholzer sports a 160 average.

More Than 250 Youths In Hub City Baseball Leagues

The crack of horsehide against hickory has sounded officially for the first time this year, as tryouts get under way for San Anselmo's summer youth baseball program at Memorial Park over the weekend.

More than 250 boys have signed up for the three divisions—Little League, Junior League and Senior League—Marston Thall, president, reported today.

The Little League, which will field five major and five minor league teams, has 131 boys in the 10, 11 and 12-year old brackets. One hundred boys, aged 13 and 14, will be in six Junior League teams, and there will be four senior league teams on the field, with the total participants not yet complete. Junior tryouts are scheduled next Sunday at 1 p.m.

"Because of the large number of boys eligible for Junior League, and mindful of our responsibility to make sure every boy plays, we have added one more team to give every boy an even chance," Thall said.

Almost every game will begin at 6 p.m. this year, except on weekends, when there will be some daytime games. The Senior League schedule will be set to enable the older boys to have time for both the games and jobs. Thall said the Junior League season will begin May 21, and the Senior League May 28, both delayed long enough to avoid conflict with high school sports.

The Little League season opens April 30.

The organization's board of directors voted to limit 10-year-olds to the Minor League, to permit them to get in more playing time, as well as to divide the boys more equitably by age and experience.

New construction at Memorial Park this year will include a third diamond, on which Frank Quinn, recreation director, and the city already have begun work; and a scoreboard, announcing booth, and expanded snack shack, are to be financed by the Little League.

Other selections:

Bill McClintock, California captain.

Ken Stanley, University of Pacific's 24-point-a-game scorer.

Bob Gaillard, University of San Francisco playmaker.

Ed Thomas, USF's rebounding forward.

Second team choices: Pete Lillavand and Ron McGee, Santa Clara, John Henry and John Windsor, Stanford, and Jim Carinica, SF State.

ALL AROUND HANDYMAN

Jim Marshall Ready For Key Utility Job

By DAVE ROWE

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Jim Marshall, counted on by new manager Alvin Dark as one of the San Francisco Giants' top utility men, feels that the club now knows some of the hazards of Candlestick Park and will adapt itself and make necessary corrections.

"Last spring we had no idea how the playing conditions would be at the new park. We had no advantage over the other teams as is generally the case when you play at home. It took us all of 1960 to learn about the tricky winds, get used to playing in the cold and in general becoming educated to the new diamond," said Marshall.

Last season Jim led the Giants' pinch-hitting department.

LEAGUE RECORD

"That isn't saying much," he said, "because we didn't do too well but we did break a National League record—three successive pinch hitters got hits in a row—Filipe Alou, Willie McCovey and myself.

"I really learned the value of a bench—a good bench—last year. It was the first season that I did not play regularly. I also found out that a pinch-hitter doesn't have much of a chance to compile a high average. It's a tough job but a challenge.

"The role of a good utility man is a vital one to any team," Marshall said. "I have to work as hard or harder than when I was a regular and it was hard to understand how much a good utility man meant to a club when I was out there at first base regularly every day."

Last season Marshall filled at both first base and the outfield. He figures this campaign Dark will use him mostly in right field and perhaps at first base to spell whoever wins that permanent post.

IMPORTANT BAT

Marshall's left-handed bat, however, may be more important than his fielding ability. He's really dug into the inside of the game and definitely has made a study of Candlestick Park.

He's come up with some conclusions, too, and will put them to use when the club plays at home. He's going to shorten up on the bat a bit, for one thing.

"The wind moves the ball and with a shorter grip, the bat is controlled far easier and better," said Marshall. "I am also going to do much more running. Pulled muscles are much easier to get when it's cold and especially is this true of a utility man who has parked on the bench and then suddenly is called on to play.

TRICKY WIND

"I'm also going to have someone hit a raft of pop fly balls to me at Candlestick," said Marshall. "A lot of balls we figured were unplayable but the wind brought them back into play. The wind currents are about the same each day and if we practice playing the pops we will make put-outs instead of giving the batter another chance or giving him a single or double."

Marshall kept in shape during the winter months by officiating at basketball games. "I worked three games a week and also did daily work with hand-grippers and did my share of pushups. I think I'm in the best playing shape of my career.

"When I arrived at spring camp last year I weighed 205 pounds. This year I just hit the 189-pound mark. But to be a utility man one must be in top physical condition."

"I figured being a utility man might have some effect on my salary—cutting it, I mean," said Marshall, "but to the contrary, I was very well satisfied with the figure."

Striper Strivers Had A Field Day Saturday; Not Much Luck Sunday

"You shoulda been here yesterday."

That's what Saturday's satisfied sportsmen were saying to Sunday's sulky bass fishermen. Saturday was a field day for the hundreds who dunked bait for bass on the Marin side of the San Pablo Bay or trolled for their dinner in the Red Rock area.

The Quans of China Camp chortled in high glee when asked how fishing was on Saturday. One of the participants,

STEVENS

Frank Fielder, came to the phone and verified the very glad tidings. Frank and his petite wife limited out in short order as did over 90 per cent of the skiff skippers and their pals. Mostly the fish were found on the shell banks and ran from four to six pounds.

John Eliopolous brought in a sturgeon measuring 65 inches at China Camp, and Hunter Quistgard of San Rafael landed a 45-pound, 65-inch sturgeon while fishing out of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia Slough.

JOE NERVANI, operator of Joe's Launching, told me 120 striper were unloaded from the skiffs at his place on Saturday and mentioned Bill King and two friends taking nine bass from four to eight pounds. He also gave honorable mention to Louis Silveira of Sausalito for bringing in two bass and 20 flounders.

TONY CARUSO of Caruso's Bait Shop in Sausalito, informed me that salmon trolling slowed down considerably over the weekend. On Saturday, the high boat was 20 salmon and the low boat only had five fish. Apparently the schools have shifted their field of operations. Most fish were caught on Saturday and Sunday south of the Golden Gate.

Tony mentioned one private boat with five fishermen decided to stay inside and trolled in the Red Rock sector last Thursday. The boat was piloted by George Glass and he reported five limits taken by the passengers.

Sunday was rather cold.

Purim Costume Party Staged By Nursery School

Haman, the villain, Esther, the gracious queen, and Mordecai, the hero, were colorfully portrayed at a Purim costume party at the Marin Jewish Community Center's Nursery School last week.

Teachers Libby Byers, June Rubin, and Blanche Roddick helped the pre-schoolers in the fashioning of crowns and veils, long black beards, and the customary three cornered hat which, according to legend, was worn by the wicked Haman. The children also baked the traditional Purim delicacy, Hamantaschen, a three cornered cookie filled with preserves.

As the Purim story, told in the book of Esther, was recited, they booed the villains and cheered the heroes, playing the part of these famous Bible personalities.

The 30 nursery schoolers ended the party with a grand march, displaying their costumes and singing Purim songs.

ELEANOR GREEN

'The Wearing Of The Green' Theme For Focus Luncheon

"The Wearing of the Green," rather the wearing of the Eleanor Green, if St. Patrick will pardon the error, will be the fashionable fare for Tuesday's Fashion Focus luncheon at Rickey's when the 1961 spring collection of Eleanor Green will have its only showing in Marin.

Eleanor Green, the charming San Francisco designer of America's favorite afternoon and cocktail dresses, will be the special guest of the Jolly Roger Chapter of the Children's Home Society honored by Fashion Focus for their volunteer and financial aid to California's only privately owned adoption agency.

Promenading in the Eleanor Green designs that women look enchanting in, men love, and pocketbooks appreciate will be eight attractive members of the Jolly Roger Chapter.

As an ambassador of fashion good will at home and abroad, Eleanor Green has no peer. She creates the feminine, flattering styles for every occasion from luncheon in town to cocktails at seven and makes them perfect for Marin's urban-suburban living.

The Eleanor Green fashion success story is truly a Cinderella tale beginning when she arrived in the United States from Hungary as a young girl. With a small amount of borrowed money, an idea, and creative flair, she launched out on her own and proved the sceptics and pessimists wrong. Her idea—that high fashion, feminine styling and popular prices could be combined in the same dress has won her the plaudits of women around the world.

To spark the wearing of the Eleanor Green on Thursday, Mrs. Harry Pierce has gathered beautiful spring bonnets about which could be written many sonnets! Reservations to enjoy the Eleanor Green collection at the Fashion Focus salute the Jolly Roger Chapter of the Children's Home Society may be made by calling Rickey's.

March Busy Month For Marin Scouts

If plans already completed are any indication, Marin Girl Scouts will have a busy month ahead of them.

March plans for second grade Brownie Troop 51 include a discussion on elementary bacteriology and germs by Mrs. Donald L. Learnard, a former bacteriologist. The discussions will prepare the Tiburon School Brownie Scouts for a field trip on March 18, to the University of California Medical School in the Medical Center, San Francisco. Dr. George Ellman, bio-chemist, will conduct the girls through the laboratory, after which they will lunch at the hospital. Accompanying the 13 Brownies will be Mrs. George Ellman and Mrs. Michell Abramson Jr.

The "Doll Lady," Mrs. Philip Land, sponsored by the Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith, will visit Corte Madera troops on March 13 at the Corte Madera Recreation Center. Attending the program will be Brownie Scout Troops 125, 106 and 105 and Intermediate Scout Troops 154, 129 and 114. Leaders of these troops are Mesdames Albert De Mello, Vernon Lang, R. M. Strittmatter, Ralph Heggelund, Harold Kling and Robert Mauch.

Mrs. Land recently entertained Brownie Scouts of Larkspur Troop 140 and Corte Madera Troop 199, with their leaders, Mesdames M. R. McCarty, Scott Strathairn, Paul Gray, Robert West and E. Moreland Thompson. An early March meeting found her visiting Corte Madera Brownie Troop 106 and the Nature's Bluebird group, and their leaders, Mesdames A. W. Kazakoff, Brownie leader, and John Polach and J. A. Timossi, Bluebird leaders.

The Raven Patrol of San Anselmo's Intermediate Troop 191 will tour Radio Station KEAR-FM, and the control tower at San Francisco International Airport during their work on the radio and television badge. They also plan a spring overnight on the Monterey Peninsula with their leader, Mrs. Phillip E. Gilbert.

Hill P-TA To Give Music Extravaganza

Hill Intermediate P-TA's annual fund raising event, a musical extravaganza, will be presented at the Hill School auditorium on March 10-11 and 17-18.

The two-act musical was written and is being directed by Russell Dreosch, teacher at Hill, and well known in Novato for his work in local drama groups. Produced by the P-TA as its major fund raising event of the year, the show is cast with parents and teachers of Hill students and with school district personnel.

Tickets can be purchased at the school at any of the four performances. Profits from this venture are used by the P-TA for the benefit of the students. Books are purchased for the school library and special student activities financed through this means.

The theme for this year's show centers around an excessively progressive type school which depicts the activities of students and teachers in an atmosphere where the Three R's are defined as "rockin', rollin' and rhythmic."

Teachers featured in the cast include Robert Patterson, Russell Dreosch, Rufus Read, Lorraine Parmalee, Ray Furey, Elizabeth Clark, Mary Jo Dreosch, Thelma Lee, Corinne Thompson, Barbara Ehrman, Marian Whitwell, Sallie Paslow, George Fanslow, Jack Trodden, Ron Frank and Horace Crist.

School district personnel include Rebecca Miller, Margaret Feldstein and Ralph Giovinello.

Parents appearing in the cast are Mrs. Stanley Cazneau, Mrs. Paul Terry, Mrs. Robert Patterson, Mrs. Louis Graxiola, Mrs. Ralph Graeber, Mrs. Donald Wineland, Mrs. Charles Coniglio, Mrs. Richard Walsh, Thomas Scott, John Thoreson, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Groves, Mr. and Mrs. George Palmear, and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Owens.

Mrs. Rigsbee, Col. Wagner Trade Vows

At her home in Kentfield, Mrs. Helen Rigsbee became the bride of Col. Gilbert Wagner (rtd. USMC) on Saturday afternoon. Only relatives and a few close friends witnessed the 4 o'clock ceremony at which Rev. Donald Baldwin, pastor of the San Rafael Methodist Church, officiated.

The bride wore a beige silk suit and matching hat. A gold orchid was pinned to her jacket. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill DeWitt of San Rafael were the attendants for the couple. An informal reception immediately followed the ceremony.

Col. Wagner and his bride are honeymooning at Heritage House on the Mendocino Coast.

The new Mrs. Wagner, a widow, is the mother of Susan Ann Rigsbee, a graduate student at the University of California, Everett Rigsbee III, stationed by the Coast Guard at Groton, Conn., and Janet Elizabeth Rigsbee, an eighth grader at the Kentfield School. Mrs. Kater Broadfoot of San Rafael is the mother of the bride.

Colonel Wagner has a son, Jerry, and daughter, Ann, who live in San Francisco.

What To Do About Sliding Standards Of Morality

"The country's most pressing problem today is the decline of our moral standards. Such things as simple honesty and integrity are no longer our highest ideals."

That's what we overheard a businessman say to the fellow next to him at a service club luncheon the other day.

He went on to say that only a short time before he had been tempted to take part in a contract bid rigging scheme which would have netted him $20,000 without lifting a finger.

There were three potential bidders for a government contract. A representative of one firm contacted representatives of the other two.

"Business is slack. We are likely to cut our bids so low that the successful bidder won't make much, if anything."

"Why don't we agree to bid at a higher level, with the understanding that the successful bidder will share his profit with the other two," said the instigator of the scheme.

The cost to the government would be about in line with estimates, each unsuccessful bidder would make $20,000 and the successful bidder would make an even more substantial profit, the businessman told the fellow next to him.

The businessman went on to indicate that the deal was quite attractive and that he had thought about it for a considerable time before finally turning it down.

There is nothing particularly unusual about this conversation. We hear similar comments and observations with increasing frequency.

They are merely symptoms of the gross materialism which afflicts our society these days.

These symptoms have even more sinister forms. Let's look closer at the instance previously described.

While the businessman we overheard lamented the decline of morality, he himself exposed his own attitudes.

Cheaters on government contracting aren't going to be stopped until good citizens report them. The businessman we overheard apparently didn't report the attempt to cheat so it could be dealt with by authorities.

When he himself was approached, he delayed in rejecting the suggestion of cheating. His delay implies his own serious consideration of attempting it.

Would not a person of toughest moral fiber turn down the suggestion to cheat immediately and with denunciation?

What's the moral to all this?

Simply this: if the traditional high moral standards of our American people are to be preserved, we must begin as individuals to live up to our responsibilities. We must scrupulously avoid conducting our own lives in ways we would criticize in others. We must speak out against evil when and where we encounter it.

This, incidentally, is about what the carpenter from Galilee taught the world nearly 2,000 years ago.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Inaccuracies In Medical Letter

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

After reading Dr. Rubinstein's letter regarding President Kennedy's proposal on medical care for the aged, I'd like to point out an inaccuracy or two.

The President's proposal calls for financing the program by an extension of the Social Security system, the cost to be met by an increased payroll deduction for all covered workers and a like increase of the employer's share of Social Security premiums. In other words, only those who pay the premium will be in a position to benefit from the program.

This is the same sound principle of insurance we use daily. If you insure your house or car against loss, you pay a premium. If you incur a loss, you collect under the terms of your policy.

Dr. Rubinstein's statement that community funds would be used to meet these medical payments simply isn't so. Social Security isn't charity in any sense of the word. As any wage earner knows, the amount deducted from his paycheck for this purpose amounts to a sizeable sum at the end of each year.

It is to be regretted that the American Medical Association doesn't support a plan whereby a person could effectively insure himself against medical expenses. As it stands today, this is impossible to do as there is no really comprehensive plan available.

The only people who can feel secure against the possibility of being faced with ruinous medical expenses are the very poor or the very rich. The poor get free care and the rich can well afford to pay whatever is charged. The rest of us who lie in between these extremes can only protect ourselves to a degree by insurance and the spectre of huge medical bills hangs over our heads all the time like the Sword of Damocles.

Let us support our President in his plan to extend this protection to the aged, the group who needs it most. Write your senator and congressman and let them know how you feel.

Busterud Could Aid North Bay

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Chip Day's recent column suggested the possibility that John A. Busterud, assemblyman from San Francisco's 22nd District and recently elected Republican caucus leader, might move to Marin and run for Congress in the First Congressional District.

If this should occur, those who have observed Busterud's work in the Assembly will consider it a stroke of good fortune for the North Bay area.

Busterud, a Republican representing a heavily Democratic district, has done an outstanding job, not only for his own constituents, but also for Californians generally. He is a conscientious public servant, with major political and legislative experience, and the enthusiasm and energy necessary to get things done.

State Funds Sought To Assist Summer Work Programs For Youth

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Two bills which have been in the State Legislature off and on for four years are being presented once again this week by Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D, Berkeley).

The measures provide for a pilot program for fostering work for young people from 14 to 18 years of age during summer months, and an appropriation of $1,000,000 to help the program along.

It was in 1957 that Rumford, spurred by a group in Berkeley, first presented the measures. They were turned over to an interim committee "for study," which is a pleasant method of killing a measure the legislature doesn't want to act upon. The studies have come to naught, and consequently, Rumford is going to try again to get the program in effect on a wider basis.

THE PROGRAM has been in effect in Berkeley for nine years now, and has been successful. It has been spearheaded by Marjorie Walker, who is in charge of the state employment office in that city, and who also is secretary of the Berkeley Workrecreation Committee.

The committee is composed of citizens who believe that a work program will be beneficial to Berkeley youth, to the community and to parents as well. About 100 youngsters are hired under the Berkeley system, and if state assistance is obtained, many more youngsters between 14 and 18 years of age can be aided.

RUMFORD BELIEVES the work program, interspersed with some recreation, is a sure-fire method of helping combat problems of juvenile delinquency.

"It keeps the kids off the streets, and gives them something to do during the summer months," he declared. "While it may not be the whole answer, it is at least an attempt to cope with the problem. Many young people want to work, and can't get jobs."

"The state spends millions of dollars taking care of young people who have run afoul of the law. The better way is to stop them before they become delinquent, and these bills are aimed at this objective."

His measure would provide state aid up to a third of the program, but not to exceed $3,000 for each 10,000 unit of population; provide opportunities for youth between 14 and 18 years who are eligible for work permits; pay state assistance funds direct to the young people in the program and be effective only if sufficient funds are available success of the program.

The measure thus is an expansion on the part of the state of the programs effected by local communities, rather than a newly initiated state program with the formation of another bureaucracy.

Books, Coffee, Music Vital To Sausalito's Artist Atmosphere

"THEY SAY," said Sausalito artist Serge Trubach, "that the left bank atmosphere of the town is being dissolved by the status quo—the business interests. They say business is trying to eliminate the artist element."

"But," he said, "Sausalito still attracts the beards, berets and bankrupt babes."

"Witness The Tides book store," he said. "People come in to chew the fat, have a coffee, read the Tides' books for free and then go home. It's a vital part of Sausalito."

Trubach, who painted the whales on The Tides sign outside the door when other painters had tried to paint whales but ended up "letting the whales drown," is very fond of the store. He, who has painted to music in the shop with Sausalito artist Enid Foster, says "The Tides is an auxiliary to the public library."

"If the library had coffee and lounges, they would have more people in the library."

OWNER HERB Beckman, who says "coffee is a natural adjunct to books," adds "I'm good for 45 minutes in any gallery and then I need some coffee."

He said that "stores with mixtures are increasing . . . it is indicative of our times." He guesses that "it is because there is more leisure, whatever that means; because of the affluence of our society, the desire for things other than just survival and the fact that people have gone to school longer than those of previous generations."

But books are pushing the art displays aside somewhat at The Tides, the birthplace of the quarterly magazine "Contact," by former Tides co-owner William H. Ryan.

Beckman, who hopes to open a separate gallery in conjunction with his shop, said "there is a crying need for someone to represent Sausalito artists in terms of a gallery."

"People come here and want to find works of local artists. We have room but for one artist to be displayed at a time."

"MUSIC, TOO, has been compatible with the place," said 36-year-old Beckman. "If someone comes in and plays the piano and it's bad, we turn the radio up. Generally we turn the radio off because the piano music is delightful. Most of the time we don't even know who it is. He plays, then leaves."

"There are also people who come in with all kinds of little instruments and play—flute, guitar, harmonica. And there are singers."

At round tables on the old tile floor, the whole world is discussed. Chess and checkers are played and S. I. Hayakawa has spoken on semantics. Lawrence Ferlinghetti on Cuba. Comedian Mort Sahl visits regularly and once a Zen monk kept coming back, to talk.

There have been two authors working at the shop and five or six poets. In the window is Old Pooh Bear, Winnie the Pooh. Outside an old wood bench to watch the walkers.

As Trubach says, "The Tides is a vital part of Sausalito."

Stronger Measures May Be Needed To Combat Recession Conditions

THERE IS AS YET no evidence, unless it be in the behavior of the stock market, that recovery from the depression is underway or in sight. Unemployment is continuing to increase, steel is operating at half capacity, the automobile business is very poor. All in all there is a growing disposition to ask whether the extremely moderate measures proposed by the President will be sufficient to turn the tide.

The President's task force, which was headed by Prof. Paul Samuelson, the president of the American Economic Association, advised Mr. Kennedy in January that the first measures might not be adequate, and that if the upturn did not come by April, stronger measures would be needed.

PROFESSOR SAMUELSON does not hold any public office. But in many ways he is the economist to whom the Administration economists listen most closely. He has just written an article for a Japanese newspaper, the "Nihon Keizai Shimbun." The article discusses the Kennedy program as it has been formulated to date. Professor Samuelson thinks that "when you come to add up in quantitative terms what the whole package of programs can be expected to accomplish, you realize how limited the total package really is."

Professor Samuelson does not say this in criticism of the Administration program. As a matter of fact the current Administration program is about what his task force recommended last January before the President was inaugurated. But the advice at that time was accompanied by the warning, which President Kennedy himself passed on to the country, that the first measures might have to be reinforced by a second set.

It is a fair inference from Professor Samuelson's article in the Japanese newspaper that he is now rather expecting that a supplementary package will be needed.

THESE IDEAS STEM from the belief that the present recession, following upon a poor recovery from the recession of 1958, and coming at the end of several years of sluggish economic activity, is much more serious than Congress or the mass of the people who are not unemployed have yet realized.

Even, he says, if the economy begins to turn up by the middle of the year, "there is little reason to think that the end of the year will find us with unemployment much better than at the present time." What is more, a quickening of economic growth to the American average rate of 3½ to 4 per cent, "will have to wait until the second and third years of President Kennedy's term of office."

THESE ARE HARD judgments of a cool and expert mind. They will be unwelcome to many. They will be unwelcome to those who take the view that with words of confidence and optimism a recession like this one can be talked away, and that the somber truths should be glossed over and suppressed. The more innocent among them go so far as to say that this recession and this slowdown are being prolonged, indeed made worse, because the Kennedy administration is telling the country that the economy is very sick.

There is everything to be said for keeping up the confidence of a sick patient. But an essential ingredient of that confidence is that the patient be convinced that the doctor is not deceiving himself.

YOUTHFUL ENERGY NEEDS AN OUTLET

Playing in a band is one way to keep boys out of mischief, according to 60-year-old Willie Lamb, bandmaster of the Prince Albert City Band for the past 25 years.

"I have always said that the boy who plays an instrument in a band will never get in trouble with the law," the Canadian musician remarked. "I've found it that way ever since I have been connected with music. I believe that if every boy could study music there would be fewer criminals in the world today."

Young people whose energies are directed into creative channels rarely cause trouble.

Healthy recreation and hobbies can contribute much to the well-being of boys and girls.

But it is even better to imbue youth with a sense of mission. Help them to realize that God expects them to make a contribution to life—to put into the world, not merely seek their own pleasure and advantage. Such a divine objective is bound to add nobility to the life of any young person.

"Why stand you here all the day idle?" (Matthew 20:6)

Stir up in boys and girls, O divine Master, a lifelong desire to be creative and constructive.

Tips On Dealing With Sharks: In 1st Place, Leave 'Em Alone

NEW YORK (AP)—"The shark is a much maligned creature," said Judy Joye, one of America's top girl skin divers.

"Dogs are far more dangerous than sharks. You are much more likely to be bitten by a dog."

Judy is full of facts and figures on shark lore.

A big danger, she said, is that some of the seven million U.S. skin divers have taken to trying to hitchhike rides on the backs of sharks, or playfully tweaking their tails.

"It has become a kind of sport with them. They have the idea sharks are tame," she said.

"They're not tame, and they don't like having their tails tweaked. They can be provoked to attack."

But Judy pointed out that in 1959 only 10 unprovoked shark attacks, resulting in three deaths, had been recorded in American waters.

"Sharks always deserve the utmost respect," she said.

"But they are basically scavengers who prefer dead or dying game, and don't like to attack anything that will put up a real fight—unless they are desperate."

"They are extremely curious and will follow a skin diver for a whole day just to see what he is doing."

"But if you ignore the shark, he'll usually ignore you."

What if he doesn't? Here are Miss Joye's tips to avoid troubles with sharks of all kinds:

"Try to look as much like a human being and as little like a fish as possible. The shark doesn't really like the taste of people."

"If a shark approaches too near, wave your arms and legs vigorously and yell. Pick up a couple of rocks and knock them together."

"USUALLY THIS sound will drive him away. Then head for shallow water."

"If he still comes toward you and you can't make it to shore, swim straight toward him, yelling as loud as you can, and hit him on the nose, his most sensitive spot."

"If he circles back to attack, dive to the bottom. Nine out of ten times sharks attack on the surface."

"BUT 80 PER CENT of the time you can predict what sharks will do. The other 20 per cent . . ." She left the thought unfinished.

Judy's final advice to skin divers:

"Let the shark alone. Don't try to jockey on his back. Don't tweak his tail. He simply doesn't like it. It insults his dignity."

Participation In Sports Can Be Real Benefit To Restless Child

Are we overdoing high school athletics? Maybe. Critics say so, but I'm not sure. I've known too many kids who were helped by the sports. Here's one of them. We'll call him "Joe."

I met Joe at a police station. He was a sorry looking mess. He had been in a fight. His knuckles were bleeding; his eyes were swollen; his clothes were dirty and torn. He was too angry to speak. It was his first offense, so the cops let him go. I was glad they did.

Next day I checked on him. Tests showed he had a good mind, but his school record was bad. Joe was a sorehead. He fought too much and studied too little. His teachers and classmates disliked him. I got permission for Joe to take part in sports at his neighborhood playground. He did well and sports became his outlet. The next year he entered high school. He made the football team promptly. He began studying; his grades improved; and his life took a turn for the better.

Joe is now a senior. He has varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball. He studies and gets good grades. His citizenship record is fine.

Occasionally he gets the urge to slug somebody but he restrains himself. He frequently goes to his favorite coach for advice. They talk things over, and decide what to do. Because of his athletic ability, Joe was offered scholarships to four colleges. He chose the one nearest his home. He'll be a football star but he'll also be an educated, capable young man.

Joe is only one of many roughneck kids who found themselves through athletics. It'll be a sad day for them if we ever drop high school sports.

DOES YOUR SON SAY,
"WHY CAN'T WE STAY IN ONE PLACE LIKE OTHER PEOPLE?"

No wonder Johnny is bewildered and unhappy. Once again he has had to leave playmates behind, move into a strange neighborhood, enter a strange school. Why don't his parents buy a home and stop this endless moving?

Johnny's father says: "Sure, I'm going to buy a home some day."
Wisdom says: "Buy it now!" Now when Johnny needs it most... when Johnny's father and mother are young enough to enjoy the home with their children... when Johnny's father is at the beginning of one of his longest earning periods.

This is a good time to buy a home, probably the best in the history of this country. For the manner in which homes are financed nowadays puts home ownership on a better basis than ever before. The cost of a home can be paid off over a long period of time. Monthly payments are usually LESS than you would have to pay in rent for the same type of property. Give a thought to buying NOW... and when you do, be sure and call a Multiple Listing REALTOR, a member of
